Mussolini Says League Can Not Decide In Crisis

Rome Will Exact More Onerous Terms If Greece Delays Fulfillment

ITALY MAY QUIT WORLD BODY

Athens Completely Isolated And Government Holds Up Reports On Status

Rome—A counter-revolutionary Republican movement is under way in Greece, says a dispatch Tuesday. The movement is gaining ground despite drastic measures taken by the government, including the immediate arrest of all suspects and the confiscation of arms, the dispatch says. The followers of the late King Constantine's party are said to be preparing for action.

Athens is completely isolated and the Greek government is allowing no reports concerning the "grave internal situation" to be sent from the capital, says the dispatch.

As an indication of the drift of public opinion, the dispatch says, the tomb of Colonel Gouras who was executed by the revolutionary government last November is constantly covered with flowers, in strong contrast to its previous neglected appearance.

LEGATION DENIES REPORT
London—The Greek legation here today emphatically denied Italian reports of serious internal troubles in Greece. The latest telegrams from Athens, it was said, indicates that complete order prevails throughout the country.

London—Italy will make her terms for the evacuation of Corfu more onerous if Greece delays in fulfilling the terms of her ultimatum, Premier Mussolini is quoted by the Daily Mail's Rome correspondent as declaring.

A Central News dispatch from Rome Tuesday says that Premier Mussolini specifically has instructed Italian delegates to the League of Nations that he has absolutely determined to maintain his position that the league is incompetent to deal with cases in which the honor and prestige of Italy are concerned.

An exchange telegraph dispatch from Rome Tuesday says Premier Mussolini told the cabinet that if, the council of the League of Nations asserts its competency to deal with the Greco-Italian controversy, Italy will withdraw from the league.

MAX CALL ON COURT
Geneva—A member of the Italian delegation to the assembly of the League of Nations Tuesday authorized the league secretary to deny that Italy had ever officially repudiated the competency of the league to handle the Greco-Italian crisis.

"We are awaiting the return of Major Giurini, from Rome and then will determine our final official attitude," said the Italian spokesman to a member of the secretariat.

"Personally I think it is likely we may ask the permanent court of international justice to pass upon competency of the league."

PURNELL THOUGHT TO BE AT SHILOH

Detroit—Belief that Benjamin Purnell, missing leader of the house of David colony of Benton Harbor, Mich., is hidden in the colony, was expressed Tuesday by Gladys Bamford Rubel, who recently swore out a warrant charging him with a statutory offense and then went into hiding. Mrs. Rubel, who with her baby were found living in Fort Wayne, Ind. She explained her absence by saying that she had been told she would be put in jail "for safe-keeping" to be ready to testify against Purnell, if he is found.

Accompanied by her husband, an attorney, Mrs. Rubel appeared Monday night at the home of Judge Harry J. Dingman, conducting the one-man grand jury investigation at St. Joseph, Ind. the activities of the colony, and offered her services in aiding the state in its search for Purnell. She was told to prepare a statement regarding Purnell, and this is expected to be ready when the one man hearing opens Sept. 11.

ROME-ATHENS MUDDLE TESTS LEAGUE POWER

Italy's Refusal To Submit Question To Geneva Does Not Preclude Action

PRECEDENT SET BY U. S.

Washington May Attempt To Bring Peace If International Body Fails

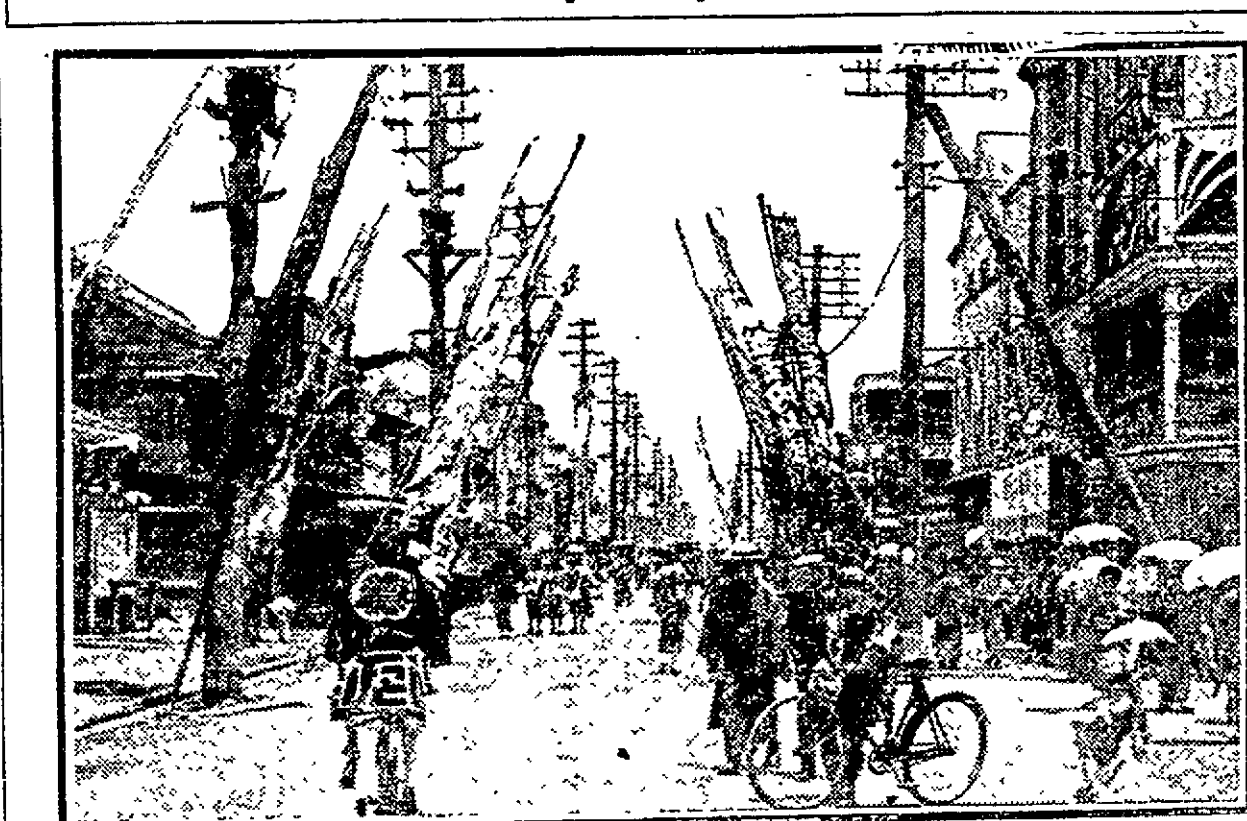

Copyright 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Italy's refusal to permit her controversy with Greece to be considered by the League of Nations at Geneva on the ground that the present Greek government has not been recognized by the powers as legal need not prevent the league from assuming jurisdiction.

This is the view taken by those who have studied the covenant of the League of Nations, particularly the famous article 11, which was often interpreted by President Wilson in his speeches as giving any nation the right to bring to the attention of the league any dispute in any part of the world likely to affect the peace of the world, whether it was between a member of the league and a non-member. Indeed Lord Robert Cecil on his recent visit to the United States declared that under article 11 the reparations dispute would be considered, but that out of deference to the wishes of France the controversy had not been taken up because the parties interested believed they could ultimately adjust the matter by direct negotiation between governments.

In the present case, one of the two parties to the dispute actually appealed to the league which can not say it will keep hands off out of deference to Italy without seeming to take the side of Italy. The question of whether the present Greek government has the right to appeal to the league is not considered pertinent here, for it is pointed out by international lawyers that the Greek membership in the League of Nations is not a membership of any particular administration or regime, but is permanent. It enjoys the membership to the fullest extent, irrespective of the existing type of government in Greece. Nations do not lose their treaty right simply because of an internal revolution or domestic disturbance. Ample precedent is afforded in the case of the United States and Mexico. No recognized government has existed in Mexico for several years but the United States has insisted upon protecting American property rights under earlier treaties made between the Mexican people and American people.

The general feeling here is that Italy has seized upon the pretext of an unrecognized government in Athens as a means of evading the issue so far as the league is concerned. It involves the acid test of the league's real strength. Should the league of nations accept the Italian interpretation and keep hands off, article 11 of the covenant will become a dead letter and faith in the league itself will be lost by many of its warmest supporters. Should the league, on the other hand, step in and call Italy to task for violating the Versailles treaty—as the covenant is an integral part of the treaty—the prestige of the Geneva institution will rise considerably. The main value of the league, which has been admitted by its staunchest opponents has been that part of the Versailles covenant which makes it obligatory for any nation having a dispute with another to wait at least three months before beginning hostilities. The belief was that during the three months' inquiry a peaceful solution would be devised especially as national passions would be expected to subside during the waiting period.

CUT FREIGHT ON FARM PRODUCE URGED BY EKERN

Attorney General Says Half Rates Would Still Yield Carriers Profit

By Associated Press
Tomah, Wis.—Freight rates on farmers' products being shipped to market "should be cut in two, in order to give the farmer profit which is given to other industries where low price of the product compels reduced freight rates," Attorney General Herman L. E Kern, declared here Monday in a Labor day address.

The attorney general directed a general attack against the carriers and the Eech-Cummins railroad law. He defended the charge of Senator La Follette that railroad property is valued by the companies at ten billion dollars in excess of its true value, and urged a new valuation of the roads.

OUTSTANDING PROBLEM
The outstanding problem today is our national transportation—the charges to be made now and in the future for railroad transportation," Attorney General E Kern said. "The valuation of the railroads now in process will affect every farmer and every working man, their children and their grandchildren."

The attorney general pointed to what he said was a needed reduction of freight rates for farm produce, and declared that if the freight charge were cut in two "even then the railroads would still be prosperous. In a large measure, the question of the value of the roads is a question of valuation. He urged that a fair determination of the property value of the roads be determined no matter what the cost, declaring that the subsequent saving would more than pay the expense.

RED ARROW BUDDIES HOLD ANNUAL MEET

By Associated Press
Grand Rapids, Mich.—"Les Terribles," the name given the 32nd division during the war when they administered a crushing defeat to the Germans at Juvigny, occurred this day Tuesday, the occasion being the annual reunion of the Wisconsin and Michigan soldiers who made up the famous Red Arrow division.

Preparations made to receive about 4,000 have been completed. Already up to 2,000 of the veterans have arrived.
Featuring Tuesday's program was an elaborate regatta at the Grand Rapids Boat and Canoe club. The first business session will be held Wednesday morning, at which time the place for holding the next reunion will be considered. The city where the next reunion will be held is problematical, but many of the delegates express the desire to have it held at Waco, Tex., which was the training camp of the division before it embarked for France.

The upper picture shows Yokohama's "movie row," officially known as Isosakicho dori. The banners suspended from poles are advertisements for the various cinema programs.
The lower one shows the Mitsukoshi store—one of the biggest department stores in the Orient, where the Tokyo fire started. Owing to the breaking of water mains the fire department was helpless in trying to check its spread.
The districts shown above were entirely destroyed by the earthquake and conflagration and now offer scenes of death and desolation.

PRIEST TESTIFIES IN ARNOLD'S TRIAL

Mineral Point Clergyman Says Banker Boasted Of Vast Wealth

By Associated Press
Superior—Because J. F. Cass, Madison, Wis., banker and former assistant treasurer of the Madison Bond company, refused to comply with a request to "jump out of the window" made by Victor H. Arnold, former head of the bond company, Cass was ordered out of the bond company offices, he testified on the stand in federal court here Tuesday morning where Arnold is being tried on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The witness was subjected to a severe cross examination regarding the books of the bond company relative to the account of the stock transaction by which Arnold had embezzled several of his employees of embezzling over $200,000 of the Madison Bond company funds.

Cass was proceeded on the stand by Fred L. Parr, former official of the Madison Bond company, the last witness on the stand prior to the recess last Saturday.
Father L. P. O'Riley, a clergyman of Mineral Point, Wis., was the next government witness. He related the incident of trading $500 worth of Madison Bond company stock to Arnold for the latter's personal note and stated that Arnold had informed him that he was a man of vast wealth and that he owned $50,000 worth of real estate in Madison alone.

Hogs Eat Body Of Unknown In Lacrosse Field

By Associated Press
LaCrosse—The body of an unknown man, thrown in a pasture, was eaten up by hogs, on the Tully farm five miles north of Mount Sterling, according to a message from Gay Mills. The bones were found scattered over the pasture. Shoes with rubber heels, corduroy pants, a collar and necktie, the only clues to establish the identity of the man, J. S. Earle, district attorney, is conducting the investigation.

ARMY FLIERS LAND AT NIGHT IN STORM

By Associated Press
Chicago—Lieutenants Kenneth Garrett and Victor Bertandias, army fliers who left Mitchell field, N. Y. Friday on a rafting tour of 6,200 miles left at 10:55 today for Milwaukee.
They landed here in the dark and during a rainstorm Sunday night, dropping into a cornfield with only slight damage after ineffectual attempts to find a landing field, none being sighted.
The pathfinding trip will take the two fliers over Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon and California.

MARTIAL LAW EFFECTIVE IN STRICKEN COMMUNITIES—THOUSANDS REPORTED STARVING AS GOVERNMENT RUSHES RICE TO SUFFERERS

Virtual destruction of Tokio and Yokohama are reported in the first direct communication received from Tokio by the outside world since earthquake and tidal wave, followed in places by fire, laid waste an important section of Hodo, chief island of Japan, last Saturday. The communication is from an Associated Press staff correspondent.

The first comprehensive view of the havoc wrought was received in cable advices from Osaka.

It appears from these that the disaster is greater than previous reports have indicated. The ministry of marine estimates the dead in Tokio alone at 150,000; the best estimates place the dead in Yokohama at 100,000, virtual destruction of Nagoya, town of 620,000 is reported, and Yokosuka, a town of 70,000 is said to have been wiped out by the successive attacks of earthquake, tidal wave and fire.

Grave damage has been done in the summer resort sections about Hakons and on the Izu peninsula. Monetary loss in Tokio alone is placed at five billion yen.

Martial law is effective in the stricken cities: none may enter without the most urgent reasons or without carrying their own food supplies.

COMBAT FOOD SHORTAGE
More than 3,500,000 bushels of rice are being rushed from southern Japanese ports and to the stricken regions, where thousands are reported starving, and in Tokio, suffering from thirst because the earthquake wrecked the water supply system, water is being doled out there by the same relief workers who are distributing the inadequate supplies of food the government has been able to transport thither.

The death or injury of several members of the royal houses is feared, though the emperor, empress, and prince regent are safe.

Reports that the new premier, Count Yamamoto, has been assassinated are current, but there is little confirmation for any stronger statement than that he was attacked and the attackers' aim frustrated. The attack is said to have been made at a meeting in the Navy club where a number of statesmen were forming the new cabinet.

PREMIER INJURED
The floor collapsed, and the premier was injured but the meeting was continued in an adjoining building and its business completed. Viscount Takahashi and 15 others are reported to have been killed while attending a party meeting.

Several islands including Enoshima, noted beauty spot and one of the Bonin group, on which is the Japan end of a trans-Pacific cable link, are reported to have disappeared below the surface of the sea, but there has been no confirmation of this.

Communications are at a standstill. It is expected that it will be at least a month before the Tokaido line, running from Tokio to Kobe will be in operation again. This line apparently suffered most. Airplanes are being used to carry official messages from Osaka to Tokio.

Two of the ships in Yokohama harbor when the tidal wave struck have been heard from. A number of naval vessels at Yokosuka, the naval base were driven ashore by the tidal wave and some are said to have suffered explosions in their magazines.

There have been explosions of oil storage tanks at Yokohama and of gas storage tanks at Tokio, great damage resulting.

More than 200,000 houses have been destroyed in Tokio, it is estimated. Two years will be required to rebuild the city, if not more.

The American, French and Italian embassy buildings have been destroyed as has the Chinese legation.

America Aids Martial Law

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Officials here were preparing to press forward Tuesday their plans for extending every possible means of American aid to the earthquake sufferers of Japan on receipt of fuller advices as to the needs of the situation and indication of the most effective measures of relief.

While American individuals throughout the country were responding to the proclamation appeal issued by President Coolidge for contributions through the American Red Cross, ships of the army and navy already were either under way or already with supplies for the relief of the afflicted region. In addition, the entire Asiatic fleet has been placed at the disposal of the Japanese minister of marine for any possible service, and plans were said to contemplate the use of other government vessels, including some of the shipping board if necessary as supply carriers.

FOOD SUPPLIES SENT
After American relief plans had been discussed Monday at the White House and at the state war, navy and other departments, it was announced Monday night that the destroyer Tender, Blackhawk, would be loaded on her arrival at Chefoo, China, with one million pounds of rice and 500,000 pounds of beans and other supplies.

NEW RECORD FOR TRAFFIC ON ROUTE 15 SET ON MONDAY

Only Few Accidents Are Reported
In Spite Of Congested
Highway

All records for traffic on Highway 15 between Appleton and Milwaukee went by the boards Monday afternoon. There was a continual procession of automobiles from Fond du Lac to Milwaukee from noon until late in the evening. The traffic was much lighter north of Fond du Lac than between Fond du Lac and Milwaukee.

The great bulk of the traffic was southbound. There were almost as many Illinois and other foreign cars in the procession as there were Wisconsin machines. At times the congestion was so great that cars crawled along at from eight to fifteen miles an hour. The highway was lined with machines that either had been pushed off the pavement or were stopping to make repairs.

Only a few serious accidents were reported in spite of the great traffic. An automobile owned by Emeda Hopkins, 38 Sydney-st., Kimberly, was in the ditch south of Fond du Lac. The top was smashed in and the car was badly damaged. It was brought into Appleton Tuesday morning.

The automobile owned by P. Heenan was badly damaged Friday afternoon when it was struck by another car near Slinger. The driver of a car coming toward Appleton lost control of his car and smashed into the rear end of Heenan's car. The occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Heenan, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glaser, Story-st., escaped injury.

GIRL INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Appleton and Milwaukee Cars
Collide On Richmond-st.
And Second-ave

Miss Helen Zimmer, daughter of A. L. Zimmer, 233 College-st., suffered several injuries in an automobile collision which occurred at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Second-ave and Richmond-st. Cars owned by Fred Klein, 657 Clinton-st., Milwaukee, and Louis Radtke, 1113 Superior-st., came together. Miss Zimmer was in the latter vehicle.

According to the report given by the automobile occupied by Mrs. and Mrs. W. G. Hansen, 465 New York-bldg., Milwaukee, drove ahead of the Klein-Schmidt car, thus shutting off his view and causing his car to collide with the Radtke car.

Mr. Klein-Schmidt was driving east on Second-ave at the time. Mr. Radtke was driving north on Richmond-st., while the other Milwaukee automobile was driving south on Richmond-st. Miss Zimmer's injuries consisted of a cut on her head and bruises on arms and legs. The left hand and right arm of the Klein-Schmidt car were broken, while the right rear wheel, the left rear fender, running board and the windshield of the Radtke car were damaged.

POLICE SEEK MANIAC ESCAPED FROM ASYLUM

Local police authorities have been notified of the escape of an inmate from the Waupun-asylum and request the cooperation of residents in anything that might lead to his discovery. The man's name is John Templeton. He is 38 years old, weighs between 160 and 170 pounds, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, and when last seen wore striped overalls, straw hat and full length underwear under his shirt sleeves that were cut off at the elbows.

BATHS AND 'GYM' REOPENED AT 'Y'

Summer Physical Schedule Will Be Followed By Employed Staff

Practically all activities were resumed at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday with the exception of the use of the swimming pool. This will not be available to members for another week or more because of the construction work which is being done overhead, and the repainting within.

A. P. Jensen, physical director, and J. E. Dennison, boys work secretary, have returned from their vacations and camp duties and again are in charge of their respective departments. Businessmen's college ball classes will resume Wednesday but continue on the summer schedule for the next three or four weeks, with sessions at noon and 5:15 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Shower baths and dressing rooms in the men's division were opened Tuesday, and those for boys were expected to be opened Wednesday.

With the coming of teachers and students to the city there was a brisk demand for dormitory rooms. The association accommodated as many as possible and the others have had their names placed on the waiting list until the addition is finished.

DRIVE BLAZING CAR TO DOORS OF FIRE STATION

Two small fires occupied the attention of the Appleton fire department over the weekend. An automobile owned by Arthur J. Engel, 963 Durkee-st., caught fire and was driven to the doors of the engine house Sunday morning to have it extinguished. Three gallons of chemicals put out the blaze in the hood. Smoke escaping from pipes in the basement of the Walker drug store, College-ave, Friday afternoon, brought out the chief's car. No damage was recorded.

MILWAUKEE ALIVE WITH BOYS IN BLUE

Between twenty-five and thirty are guests of the city of Milwaukee this week during the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Among the Appleton people attending the convention are Dr. A. W. Kanouse, G. Langstadt and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Meldam.

Hundreds of veterans arrived in Milwaukee on Monday and the city was alive with bands and fife and drum corps as the aged boys in blue marched from the depots to their hotels. Milwaukee is profusely decorated for the event.

Hotel rooms are at a premium in the city. Every room is taken and hundreds of visitors are housed in private homes and in halls which have been fitted for sleeping quarters.

DAILY REHEARSALS FOR STYLE REVUE

Mrs. Marie Boehm will play the part of Cleopatra, in the fall style revue which will be offered by six Appleton merchants in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Sept. 12, 13 and 14. Harry Oaks will play the part of the beggar and the action of the revue is built around these two persons.

More than 100 people already have been chosen for the cast and still more are to be selected. Daily rehearsals are being held. The ticket sale will begin on Saturday. The net proceeds from the production are to be given to Appleton Woman's club.

William Fries has returned from Rochester, Minn., where he submitted to an operation at Mayo Brothers hospital.

Ten Years' Growth

Here are figures showing the growth of Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co. during the past ten years.

In 1912, the Company's cars carried 145,331,079 passengers; in 1922 they carried 199,162,836—a gain of 37 per cent. Increase of street railway traffic keeps pace with increase of population, in spite of increased use of automobiles.

Dec. 31, 1912, the Company had 22,606 electric service customers; Dec. 31, 1922, it had 108,420—a gain of 380 per cent. Increase of electric service business is several times as fast as increase of population. Ten years ago the street railway division was the big end of the Company's business. Today the electric service division is the big end, and it is growing so much faster that it will eventually be many times as large as the railway division.

In 1912, the Company's gross revenue was $7,729,822.98; in 1922, it was $19,493,012.30—a gain of 152 per cent.

Capitalization outstanding Dec. 31, 1912, against property now owned by the Company, was $53,265,000; on Dec. 31, 1922, it was $61,250,000—an increase of fourteen and one-half per cent.

In 1912, 3,399 employees drew $2,649,677.38 in wages; in 1922, 5,039 employees drew $7,956,252.93—a 51 per cent increase in number of employees, and a 202 per cent increase in total wages paid.

Summed up: with fourteen and one-half per cent increase in capitalization outstanding, the Company in ten years increased its street car traffic 37 per cent, its electric service customers 380 per cent, its gross revenue 152 per cent, its employees 51 per cent and its wage roll 202 per cent.

These facts explain why 30,000 Wisconsin men and women—23,000 of them in Milwaukee city and suburbs—have invested their savings in Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co. and its affiliated companies during the past five years. They know it is one of the solidest and safest permanent income investments in Wisconsin.

Hundreds more each month are buying shares of the Company's 7% cumulative preferred stock, issued with the State's approval to finance this year's growth. The shares cost $100 each—all cash or $5 down and $5 monthly per share. Either way, buyers get 7 per cent interest or dividends on every dollar invested, from the start. Cash dividends on paid up shares are mailed to shareholders every three months.

If you want a safe 7% income for idle money, or for your monthly savings, here is the place to get it. Come in and talk it over, or telephone 1005. Mail orders filled by registered letter.

FACTORY DELAYS DELIVERY OF SIGNS FOR ARTERIAL ROADS

Heavy Demand Prevents Enactment Of Arterial System Here At This Time

A large amount of unfilled orders in delaying the shipment of the 100 arterial highway signs which the city ordered several weeks ago from the Lytle Culvert and Road Equipment company of Minneapolis.

The signs were purchased at a cost of $5.94 each, which is 19 cent less than the signs purchased by the city of Menasha.

The sign is octagonal in shape and is of the type recommended by the state highway department of Wisconsin. Manitowish is the latest city to adopt the sign, and it is believed that in time the type will become universal.

The letters are painted with luminous paint on black background so that they will be very conspicuous both by day and night.

Some cities are not only erecting arterial highway signs, but painting the signs in white on the pavements, according to Chief George T. Prim of the police force. Such a sign is even more visible to the motorist than a standing sign. A sign painted on the pavement at the city limits informing the motorist that arterial highways are observed in this city and "Stop" signs painted on the pavements a few feet from the arterial streets would be a great help to the travelers, it is held.

School Population In County Shows Gain Of 61 For Year To June 30

Meating's Report Indicates
Various Districts Have 10,738 Children Of School Age
—Boys Lead By About 3,000

Rural school districts in Outagamie county gained exactly 61 in school population during the year ending June 30, according to the annual report of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, worked out from the annual reports submitted by teachers, clerks and treasurers of the various districts.

The school census on June 30 of this year showed 10,738 boys and girls between the ages of 4 and 20 years, while the census of a year previous indicated 10,677. Of this year's number, 5,505 were boys and 5,231 were girls.

The census by towns and villages is as follows: Black Creek 363, Bovina 297, Buchanan 447, Center 466, Cleora 497, Dale 383, Deer Creek 356, Ellington 457, Freedom 675, Grand Chute 807, Greenville 379, Horton 216, Kaukauna 262, Liberty 163, Maine 266, Maple Creek 265, Onelda 606, Osborn 232, Seymour 319, Vanden-brook 350, Combined Locks 119, Bear Creek 163, Black Creek 210, Hortonville 239, Kimberly 624, Little Chute 337, Seymour 147 and Shiocton 371.

3,835 ATTEND
An enrollment of 4,355 pupils, or 2,522 boys and 2,466 girls and an average daily attendance of 3,835 were reported by the teachers. Rural schools had enrollment of 3,455, state graded schools had 554 and high schools and grades had 768.

There are at present 132 school districts and 131 school buildings, but three were closed during the year. The schools are divided as follows: 120 rural schools, 6 state graded schools, 6 free high schools 4 of which have grades below.

School districts in Appleton, Kaukauna and New London are not included in the report as these are outside the jurisdiction of the county superintendent.

At the head of the 129 schools in operation were 172 teachers, of which 15 were men and 154 women. Teachers number 11 men and 197 women in rural schools, 19 women in state graded schools, 12 women in grades below high schools, 7 men and 16 women in free high schools.

SALARIES TABULATED
Practically one-half of the teachers receive salaries of more than $100 a month and about 15 per cent of the teachers receive more than $130 a month. Thirty-one teachers receive from $75 to $79; 37 teachers from $80 to $89; 30 from $90 to $99; 21 from $100 to $109; 15 from $110 to $119; 5 from $120 to $129; 5 from $130 to $139; 3 from $140 to $149; 5 from $150 to $159; 3 from $160 to $169; 1 from $170 to $179; 5 receive $200 or more a month.

One new school was built last year. It was joint district No. 7, Kaukauna, at Sniderville, erected at a cost of $10,022. Two wagons were used to transport pupils to school at a cost of $720. There were but eight pupils to be transported.

Members of school boards received for their services a total of $5,435.32. Men teachers received aggregate salary of $24,531.51 and women teachers received $132,610.47. Textbooks for the year cost $3,250.20 and library books cost $229.84. The money on hand on June 30 amounted to $41,573.17. The state school apportionment was $38,367.50 and the bonded indebtedness of districts amounted to $67,442.

TWO EUROPEANS SAIL TO APPLETON

Three more arrivals from Europe are expected in this vicinity as a result of prepaid passages secured through Henry Reuter steamship ticket agency. An immigrant from the Ruhr region, Germany and a girl from Liverpool, England, will make their home in Appleton.

Otto Dybus of Essen, Ruhr, Germany, will arrive at New York Wednesday on the American Liner "Finland." Miss Martha Macbeth of Liverpool was due to arrive at Bescon Sunday on the Cunard Liner "Armenia."

A third passenger, August Magdanz of Frenckwald, Pomerania, Germany, was expected to arrive Saturday at New York on the "America" of the American line. He will locate at Pine River, Wausau, Wis.

Trips are being made with greater ease than formerly. Last March Mr. Reuter booked 28 passengers, and all of them have arrived safely.

Saturday, Miss Randall is making a trip through this vicinity to become acquainted with the playground and recreational facilities in each town and to become acquainted with the people who are furthering recreational interests.

ON THE SCREEN

One of the most interesting pictures that has come to town in many weeks, opened yesterday and is being shown at the Elite theatre today and tomorrow. It is a First National production, entitled "Slender the Woman," directed by Allen Holubar and starring Dorothy Phillips in a role that gives full scope to her exceptional dramatic ability. In every way "Slender the Woman" must be classed among really big motion pictures that serve their first purpose in supplying genuine entertainment of a kind that is beneficial in character.

Story, acting and settings, all call for more than passing notice in Director Holubar's latest production. As a basis for the continuously diverting action, most of which is laid in the northeastern section of Canada, the producer selected Jeffrey DePrend's gripping tale of a young woman whose good name was sacrificed by an ambitious judge.

The elemental human appeal of the character of the girl, suffering under the misjudgment of her friends, but determined to fight until the wrong is righted, is brought out to the full by Miss Phillips, who strengthens her place as one of the screen's foremost emotional actresses. Occasionally there are touches of natural humor to lighten the picture, but in the main it depends upon conflict of character and the strange pranks played by fate in the development of the lives of the principal figures in the action.

Although there is no obvious moral to burden the story, it does point an inspiring lesson in the pluck of the girl who refuses to be beaten even when everything appears to be against her.

HERO HAS AGONIZED TWENTY-FOUR HOURS
IN "MAN OF ACTION"

Twenty-four hours can change the entire course of a life as is evidenced in "A Man of Action," Thomas Ince's new mystery comedy which will be shown at the Elite theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In twenty-four hours a young millionaire:

Is mistaken for a master crook;

Is black-jacked into joining a gang of diamond robbers;

Finds himself locked up in his own home with these robbers;

Is "cut" by his fiancée who fails to recognize him.

And proves that he is "a man of action" and not a soft good-for-nothing silk stocking as he has been accused.

The astounding events which work such a transformation in a man's character and fate form the basis for one of the most entertaining productions ever screened, with a surprise ending that has a tremendous "kick."

Douglas MacLean has a made-to-order part in the role of Bruce MacAllister, the poor little rich boy to whom life has been "just one darn servant after another" until his fiancée taunts him into becoming "a man of action." An excursion into the underworld which he visits in his determination to see life "as is" results in amazing adventures. Before the story is ended, he is no longer hampered by traditions of "baths at eight" and "scrapfruit on Wednesday."

Marquerite de la Motte plays the role of the beautiful fiancée, whose chain joins the millionaire into life, while Raymond Hatten as "Hoppy" a harmless member of the crook gang who is obsessed with the desire to invent a noiseless explosive has put over one of the funniest characterizations of his comedy career.

There is a laugh a minute and melodramatic "thrills galore in Thomas Ince's mystery-comedy, "A Man of Action," which comes to the Elite theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Douglas MacLean has the role of a pampered young "Nob Hiller" who turns crook for a day on San Francisco's Barbary Coast.

THE EUROPEAN WAR CLOUD

If the League of Nations fails to settle the quarrel between Italy and Greece, which is much smoke and little fire, the League opponents will hail the failure with jubilation. There will be no regret that the differences are not adjusted by arbitration, as they should be. Even if Italy and Greece go to war and the possibility of another European conflagration is developed, still there will be rejoicing. Opposition carried to this extreme is fanaticism and nothing else. It can have only one meaning and that is that war is favored as against peace.

Of course the critics shut their eyes to the fact that there is no League such as Woodrow Wilson contemplated, and that the organization which is functioning under this name is a mere shell in comparison with the substance it would possess with the membership of the United States. The Europe that has survived the war is politically the same old Europe, power in one direction matching power in another for the purpose of preserving a fancied balance. England and France could, and may, stop the trouble between Italy and Greece by a single command. They hesitate to do so because they themselves are rivals and each fears the consequences of its policies and acts upon the smaller nations whose friendship and support are desirable.

It will be argued, and plausibly, that the United States has no interest in the present crisis, but this is not true. The United States had an interest, final events disclosed, in the incident at Sarajevo that started the World war, and this interest caused it to send an army of nearly 2,000,000 men to Europe, cost it 77,000 lives and $35,000,000,000 in money. Would it not have been better for the United States to have spared itself the ordeal it went through in 1917 and 1918, in fact from the time the war started, had it been able, by exerting its moral pressure in conjunction with other powers of Europe, to avert this conflict? The question answers itself. The state department at Washington, we read, is "closely watching events in Italy and Greece and is constantly advised of developments." Why? Is it merely curiosity, or is it because what takes place there, whether there is war or not, is of real concern to us?

The time has passed when nations can live in isolation. The disarmament conference and treaty is proof of this. We are vitally interested in preserving the peace of the world, for the simple reason we deal extensively with other nations diplomatically and commercially. The League may or may not intervene in the case of Italy and Greece. If it does not it will merely establish the fact that it is impotent as now organized to act in such emergencies. It will not prove that an effective league is not desirable, or that the existing League with the addition of the United States would not be effective. There is no issue between Italy and Greece that should not be settled by arbitration, that Italy should not indeed be compelled by an organization formed for that purpose to submit to arbitration. The whole question is whether we wish to have international differences composed in this manner, or whether we wish to settle them by force.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO

The country has been prepared for some time to expect recognition of the Obregon government in Mexico, so that announcement of the fact from Washington is no surprise. We have waited a long time before consenting to a restoration of political relations with Mexico. We have up to this time withheld recognition because conditions in that country, together with certain policies of administration, have confirmed our opinion of the instability of the government as well as its unwillingness to deal justly with American interests and to discharge faithfully its international obligations.

Diplomatic exchanges have been in progress for many months, and it is only recently that it has appeared from information given out at Washington that President Obregon was approaching the point of assurances upon which to predicate recognition. The test of endurance has been upon Mexico rather than upon the United States. It simply has been a question of months and years as to how long the Obregon government could hold out until it met the views and demands of our state department. Now that recognition has been formally extended Americans accept the stability of the Mexican government as fully established. Recognition will be a powerful factor in support of President Obregon and his efforts to maintain order.

The culmination of our Mexican policy in the recognition of President Obregon is a confirmation of the wisdom of Mr. Wilson's handling of the Mexican problem. The present administration has followed exactly in his footsteps, withholding recognition for more than two years until its requirements upon Mexico were completely met. We also have to credit a consistent refusal to come to the rescue of murderous usurpers and dictators.

Obregon deserves the esteem now to be accorded him officially by Washington. He is a brave man, a patriot and something of a liberator. He has returned the land cruelly confiscated by Diaz from the communal holdings of wretched peons. Some of the guilt-stained titles had been sold to Americans and Europeans with or without connivance. Obregon considered these stolen goods void from the beginning. As a matter of form the American government has protested, and demanded that where titles are good no innocent holder shall be ruined. It has been a notable accomplishment of American Envoys Warren and Payne to reconcile these two tenable points of view, insuring on the one hand that the new Mexican constitution shall not retroactively operate to seize American property equitably obtained, and recognizing on the other that the foreigners who were guilty should not be permitted to keep their legalized thefts.

Everywhere throughout the United States the heralding of peace on the border and goodwill between nations will be welcomed. Everywhere the fair and untrammelled attempt of a free Mexico to attain permanent order and prosperity without a dictator, build up education and cut away the deep-seated habits, passions and prejudices of years of guerrilla warfare will be watched with a genuine sympathy.

THE COAL STRIKE

The coal strike is on because the operators and miners have elected, in defiance of public opinion and public interests which in every sense are superior to the questions involved in this controversy, to fight. From what can be judged by the facts as they appear on the surface, the responsibility is about equally divided and the selfishness about equally contained.

Efforts to find a peaceful solution will be resumed tomorrow when Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania will press his demands upon the belligerents for a compromise settlement. The basis of the settlement proposed is that the miners shall receive an advance in wages, and that they shall abandon the demand for check-off of union dues in return for the operators' abandoning their demand for acceptance of arbitration of future disputes.

This would seem to be as fair a basis of agreement as might be expected under the circumstances. There are other matters, including the term of the present agreement, but they are incidental. We think public opinion will approve the proposed wage increase, which will average a little better than ten per cent. It should make no appreciable difference in the price of coal. If the operators and miners have a proper appreciation of public opinion and of the unpopularity of the break which has occurred, they will proceed to get together. Both may feel satisfied with their success in obtaining political intervention, but politics cannot obscure the real issues and duties in this dispute.

TODDLING

No matter how early or how late the bambino begins toddling he can't please everybody. Therefore he has my sympathy. If he tries to walk a little too early in the estimation of Mrs. Neighbor he will probably have bow legs or flat feet or something. And if he takes his own good time about it and waits until he is 15 or 16 months old, Mrs. Neighbor is afraid his mind isn't normal. The average healthy baby makes his first voluntary muscular efforts when he is about 4 months old, when he begins to grasp things deliberately; it is in the fourth month that he learns to hold his head erect when the trunk is carefully supported. Yet many a parent handles a baby as carelessly as though he could do these things when only a few weeks old. Not until the seventh or eighth month, as a rule can a baby sit up unsupported. In the ninth or tenth month the young bambino gets fancy notions in his head and tries to get up on his feet by pulling himself up in his crib or grabbing hold of grandpa's whiskers; if these isn't too much noise and excitement over this he becomes so precocious by the time he is 11 or 12 months old that he can stand on his feet for a moment without any assistance at all. After this there is no holding him. In almost no time at all he'll be running around the yard like a fence.

From this stage, say the age of 16 months, the bambino, if well born, emulates Christopher Columbus. He is forever eager to set out on voyages of discovery; in many cases he discovers the neighbors, who, up to the moment, have been absolute strangers. Bambinos are great little social organizers or ice crackers.

No matter how early in his career the toddler starts trying to walk, let him try. Do not attempt to restrain him on the theory that he is so heavy and so young that he'll make himself bow-legged for he won't. On the other hand it is unwise to urge or teach the baby to attempt to walk before he is a year old, or to equip him with apparatus of any kind which favors too early walking.

Certainly a baby requires no shoes before he is old enough to walk; after he begins toddling the less shoes the better. Soft moccasins or soft soled sandals or other footwear which is not hard of stiff underfoot should be preferred for the normal development and strengthening of a baby's feet. It is a shame to put hard, stiff soled shoes on an infant not yet old enough to walk enough to wear the soles out. A shoe should never mold, restrict or confine a child's foot; no heel should be permitted on the shoes of children under 12 years of age.

The young bambino who has not yet learned to walk should not wear even stockings in very warm weather, but bare feet—stockings alone, without shoes of any kind, in cold weather. Wool stockings in the winter time. Warm moccasins or soft shoes in very cold weather.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Health Advice

I want some of your health advice. Kindly tell me something about ulcer of the stomach, its causes, symptoms, dangers.

Answer—Best health advice I can give you is that you should not attempt self-diagnosis. Therefore I do not think I ought to equip you with the symptoms of any disease to try on your case.

How He Sleeps

What is the normal or correct posture for sleeping? Is there any objection, or any significance in the habit of a healthy young man sleeping most of the time on his belly?—Y. W.

Answer—Any posture one finds comfortable is correct for sleeping; there is no objection nor significance in the habit of sleeping in the prone posture.

Cold Water And The Heat

Does cold water drinking induce prickly heat?—P. C. D.

Answer—No; the drinking of plenty of cold (not ice cold) water rather tends to prevent or relieve prickly heat. The condition (medically called malaria rubra and lichen tropicus and, when we are very hard pressed indeed, strophulus) is an inflammation of the mouth of the sweat follicles. It is relieved by bathing with dilute alcohol (bathe alcohol) or any dilute alcoholic lotion such as cologne water, witch hazel extract, or bay rum, followed by a liberal application of pure talcum powder or zinc stearate powder or cornstarch powder. Prickly heat is pretty good evidence of excessive clothing.

When Rollo sits at the old keyboard, He uses lots of paper; His hands and brains get busy then. With many a funny caper, And everything that Rollo writes Is brimming full of humor; He's so chuck full of wit he'd see The bright side of a tumor.

Now we contrive, we just sit back Till funny thought or notion Induces us to scribble or pome. And sets our pens in motion. The "funny column" oft would fall And grow quite stale and hollow. If we should have to keep it up Without quick-witted Rollo.

RESPONSE

Thus did we list in rapture thrilled To our Kaukauna poet: We thought it was our funeral dirge, To hear our friend "bestow it." It seemed we heard the angels chant In strains unheard by mortals; We felt ourselves borne far aloft And past the pearly portals. We blinked—there sat The Ed. enthroned 'Twas then we saw our blunder, For now, if this were heav'n, then what Could He be doing yonder?

A Milwaukee man told the court he had had 85 jobs in two years. He talks like a housemaid.

Isn't it funny? Try to write funny stuff, and you have a serious job. But try to write something serious, and everybody thinks it a joke.

We wish we could have been at Fond du Lac last week when Chief Resnais Oshkosh spoke at the Kiwanis club. We'd have asked him if the American Indians really got any pleasure out of the kind of music that is always played for them when they are flashed on the screen, and if that is the reason they were wild.

Isn't There A Law Against This

While fishing in the Wolf river near Shawano Lumber Co., a man by the name of Safford having a 4-foot drop line at the mill slip on the boom called me to come in, as he had something to show me, and said no one would believe him if they did not see it. I saw once in my life three fish on one hook, a 4-inch minnow, a 12-inch pickerel and a 10-pound pickerel. The grass pickerel had swallowed the bait minnow and the large pickerel had swallowed the small one as far as it would go down. In the next 30 minutes a dozen persons had seen the strange catch.

Hands across the V's--- Variety and Value, the watchwords in Schmidt's opening display of Fall Merchandise

This store stands on the threshold of a new season with but one desire—to be of more service to more men than any other season in our career.

Yes—America is prosperous—that true. Merchants are optimistic—that's fine.

But here's a store that is pessimistic enough to know that all the fine goods in the world will not move unless there's genuine value behind them.

This stock of fine, bright, new goods was bought not for ourselves—but for you—and to put them into your homes we have used prices that will make you feel at home and trade at home—here.

Today then, please note that instead of saying we are ready to show the goods we prefer to put it—we are here to show not only the new creations in varieties but also a new code in Values. The opening starts today—we invite you and yours believing that we can be of service to both.

A. St. Louis, Missouri, is at the present time a city without a county. It was formerly a part of St. Louis County.

Unusual People

DOG LISTED AS PERSON
Milwaukee (in the Milwaukee city directory) appears this line: Reinhold, King, r 600 Twenty-seventh.

"King" Reinhold is a dog, probably the only dog in the world listed in a regular city directory as a regular person.

And his owner, George Reinhold, insists that he is just that—a regular fellow.

"King's" unusual distinction came about by accident. A young woman, canvassing the city or directory names, asked Reinhold names of all who lived in the house.

The thought of the dog came naturally to his mind. He realized his mistake and he intended to correct it immediately, but some one interrupted them and the census taker left before he had a chance to explain.

"So King's name went in with the rest," Reinhold explained.

"Everyone in the community knows and loves King. School children stop to play with him and men on their way to work greet him as an old friend. He is only a mongrel, five years old, but he is a wonderful dog."

And, according to Page 1225, the 63 of the Milwaukee city directory, he certainly is.

600 Persons At Picnic For Masons

Members of the various lodges of the Masonic order and their families to the number of more than 600 enjoyed the annual picnic of Waverly lodge at Utowana beach Monday afternoon.

The crowds were taken to the beach in automobiles. Cottagers at the beach, who are Masons, acted as hosts to the picnicers and turned over their homes and lawns to the throng.

Guests were provided with colored paper caps and favors as they arrived. The majority then took part in a program of games and contests in a meadow adjoining the beach. Several games of playground baseball were played, with both oldtimers and youngsters on the diamond. Some swiftness was in progress, but the game between Masons and the Order of DeMolay was a well fought battle in which the Masons won by a score of 12 to 6. Horse-pitching also was one of the day's diversions.

Races, a tug-o-war and other contests were enjoyed by the children, with W. S. Ford as referee. The winners were presented with toys of many kinds.

Ice cream and lemonade were served free to the picnicers all afternoon, and coffee was provided for the basket suppers served on the beach.

Lodge members from Kaukauna, Green Bay, Sheboygan and Black Creek were among those who attended. The arrangements were in charge of a committee of which A. H. Wickesberg was chairman.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss May H. York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. York of Portage and Byron C. Taylor of Appleton took place at the home of the bride's parents at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor formerly attended Lawrence. Among the Appleton people at the wedding were E. H. Taylor and Stuart Smith.

Social Season Gets Underway

There are two seasons of the year which delight a Society Editor. The one is when things stop for the summer and the other is when they begin in the fall. By "things," the S. E. means club meetings, lodge meetings, parties and the things in general which give her something to write about.

Tuesday ushered in the season when things begin, for the club notices began to come in, the lodge notices were sent in and people began to think about their winter programs. After a summer of hard searching for the elusive bits of news, the S. E. is anxious to write about every event which takes place in Appleton during the coming year. If you have a club which meets once a week, twice a month or any time at all, call the society editor and she will put them in the paper. Few people feel free to telephone about their social plans, but their items will be received gratefully by the department. Send them in.

About the time when things stop? Well, at the end of a year of writing hundreds of social events the S. E. like the hostess and club members, welcomes a rest, but that time is three months past. Send them in.

PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tesch were surprised at their home at Five Corners on Sunday afternoon and evening by a number of friends in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary. More than 100 guests were present at the dinner in the evening and more than 300 students attended the anniversary dance at the Frank Stark hall. ## DAMP WEATHER CUT PAGEANT FINANCES

Even Fireworks Display Saturday Night Was Marred By Rain

Kaukauna—The display of fireworks Saturday evening, closing night of the city's first annual homecoming week, was marred by bad weather. In spite of a drizzle Saturday evening the Lave-st bridge was packed with people who watched the event from the library grounds.

The streets were deserted immediately following the fireworks although Saturday night had been scheduled as a big night. As a result of the weather, it is practically certain that the homecoming concert will run short in the finances. The dance, however, which was given in the auditorium Friday evening was largely attended. Music was furnished by Gib Horst's orchestra of 10 pieces. Approximately 350 tickets were sold that evening.

INSTALL OFFICERS AT C. E. MEETING

Kaukauna Society Wins Banner At Closing Session Of Convention

Kaukauna—A successful convention of the Green Bay district of the Wisconsin Christian Endeavor union ended Sunday evening in Reformed church with installation of new officers and awards to various societies and an address by the Rev. L. W. Westphal, Neenah. The Green Bay district banner was awarded to the Kaukauna society; the Oconto Presbyterian church received the banner for having the largest delegation in proportion to its size. Oconto also captured the banner which was presented for efficiency in society activity in addition to receiving the pastor's aid banner. The banner for the best delegation present went to the Green Bay group; Doorco received the county work banner and Sturgeon Bay was awarded Bible study honors.

The meeting opened at 7:30 with a song service lead by the convention chorister. Devotions were led by the Rev. E. L. Worthman, pastor of the convention church. Special music was rendered by a choir of Endeavorers from Appleton Presbyterian church. A fellowship meeting in life recruits followed the close of the session included in the group was Kenneth A. Newton, president of the local Senior Christian Endeavor society, who will leave about Sept. 15 for Reformed Mission house near Plymouth to prepare himself for the ministry.

JOHNSON'S HIT WINS GAME FROM KAUKAUNA TEAM

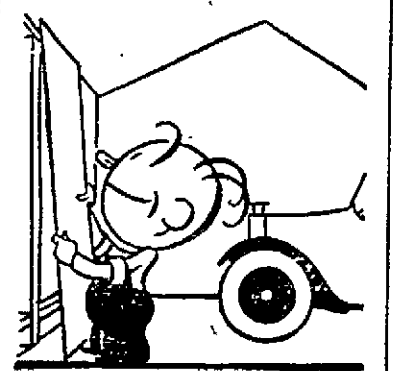

Harvey Stock Pitches Great Baseball Against Green Bay On Sunday

Kaukauna—Eddie Johnson, Kaukauna's only home player in the local state league baseball team, came in for his share of praise by winning Sunday afternoon's game from Green Bay when his timely hit into deep center drove in two runs. Only three hits were garnered off Smith's delivery but Johnson's single did the business after Smith had walked two men who were sacrificed along by Eddie Stumpf. Reke's stab prevented the blow from going for a clean double but he threw wild to the plate in his attempt to catch Goede with the second marker.

Harvey Stock, pitching for the Electric City, kept the game won after "but" inning by allowing only two bingles and a double by the opposing pitcher. Backed by "Jay" Barbeau, who was remembered here for his "crab" here on July 4, the Green Bay club was untiring in its attempts to catch Stock "decorating" the pill. Green Bay scored its button in the first inning when Deselets, first up, was safe at first on Stock's error. He went to second on a wild pitch, was tumbled to third and scored on a past ball. Milberger and Goede opened the second frame by scoring a base to first. Stumpf laid a slow roller past the pitcher which advanced the two runners who galloped over the platter on Johnson's wallop.

After that there was nothing doing although the game went slowly. Smith was wild as a hawk at times. He walked four batters and fanned five. Stock passed three Lynchmen and whiffed twelve. Outside of a double

POLICE DEPARTMENT HAD REST DURING HOMECOMING

Kaukauna—Homecoming and pageant week ended Saturday evening without the occurrence of a single event which required the attention of the police department. Thousands of automobiles were directed through the streets and at the pageant grounds without a collision. Saturday evening also, the crowds were easily handled on the Lave-st bridge.

The police department was not fully assisted by the fire department, which were appointed by R. H. McCarty, chief of police.

An Official Statement by the Governor of South Dakota

On August 29, Governor McMaster, of South Dakota, issued the following statement:—

"At a meeting with Colonel Stewart, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and other Standard Oil Officials, held in Pierre this morning, Mr. Stewart expressed unqualifiedly the willingness of Standard Oil to comply with the wishes of the consumers of the State of South Dakota in so far as those wishes could be expressed and interpreted by the governor of this state. These Standard officials, although they contend that the present prices do not properly reflect the costs of production, refining and distribution, plus a reasonable profit, were willing, at my request, to do one of two things—raise the price of gasoline immediately in the State of South Dakota where it would represent a six and six-tenths cent reduction over former prices, or maintain, for the time being, sixteen cent gasoline in the State of South Dakota, using Mitchell as a base.

"After due consideration, the Standard Oil officials were asked by the governor to maintain the present price of 16 cents for the time being. I wish to accept full responsibility for this situation and state that Standard Oil, by deed and act, is working in fullest co-operation with the governor of this state and therefore can in no respect be blamed for 16 cents gasoline from this date.

"I realize that the independents who have viciously assailed and attacked me will raise bitter complaint against this condition. However, after due consideration and investigation, I wish to say that if the former gasoline prices of this state were excessive, the independents of this state were just as responsible for that condition and were just as guilty of taking excess profits as was Standard Oil.

"At no time during the period which former gasoline prices prevailed did any independent of this state raise one objection or bring one complaint to this office in an effort to bring about any reduction in price but they were perfectly willing to profit to the fullest extent.

"I realize that all sorts of charges will be made against me because of this action, but in view of the fact that gasoline can be purchased at various refineries today for approximately seven cents a gallon, it will not work injury to the public cause if the Independents are forced for the time being to do business on a small margin of profit. There is no particular reason why the State Government should guarantee to the Independent Oil Dealers of this state, at least for the time being, fixed profits, especially in view of the fact that they were perfectly willing and were a party to take excessive profits from the people."

This clearly defines the position which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has maintained throughout this controversy.

ROBBERS ENTER TWO FARM HOMES

Thieves Get Small Amount Of
Cash And a Safety Razor
In Two Burglaries

The modern way of panhandling is by automobile, but the method of breaking into houses and robbing the bureis and kitchen cupboards is still the same.

This fact was borne out twice when the Schmidts and the Koenigs, who live on State highway 47, but who are to take only $10 in cash and a safety razor. More than $100 in cash and a number of securities were overlooked.

The looting of the houses occurred Sunday afternoon, probably about 3:30 when the Schmidts and Koenigs families were absent. The thieves made their entrance into the Koenigs home by means of the bedroom window. They broke two windows and a door. Although they ransacked the whole house and opened every drawer they missed money that was kept upstairs and some change left in trousers pockets.

In the Schmidt home, the thieves took $10. They made their entrance through a screen on a cellar window. Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke was notified of the robbery, but the only description he had of the robbers was that a large automobile was seen to drive in to the Koenigs which is partially hidden behind a grove.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Come In During Our Special THOR DEMONSTRATION

Starting THURSDAY Sept. 6th

A Thor will wash your clothes—Cleaner—Quicker—Cheaper—and with less wear than you can have it done by any other method. Right now you are paying far more for laundry work than a Thor would cost you—whether you do the work yourself, hire a laundress, or send it out to a wet wash or laundry. Come in—let us show you how a Thor reduces washing costs to a few cents a week—learn why every fourth electric washing machine in use is a Thor.

A Small Payment Down and easy weekly installments

Just place your clothes in the cylinder, press a button and the Thor washer goes to work. Even wringers by electricity. No wash-day help is required—no mess to serve, no wages to pay. Your clothes last longer because there is no rubbing to wear them.

You'll like Thor in every way—from its attractive appearance to its easy control. Once you've tried it you'll become another happy Thor owner, and there are three quarters of a million of them from ocean to ocean.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1694 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

Railways of the United States

RAILWAY TRAFFIC: Freight traffic throughout the United States has been the greatest ever known for the first half of the calendar year. The railroads prove their efficiency by handling it promptly even though the freight rates are not such as to yield a fair interest rate upon the investment in railroad property, and this is particularly true of the roads in the northwestern region.

RAILWAYS—THE BASIS OF COMMERCE: Transportation is a factor in all commerce, a primary necessity for the exchange of products. Adequate transportation in the United States has played a large part in making possible the accumulation of more wealth in the United States during the last twenty years than the British Empire has accumulated in its entire history.

BEST CURE FOR THE RAILROADS: The railroads have helped to make the United States great. They should receive fair treatment at the hands of the Government and its various commissions which control their activities. A "railroad legislative holiday" should be proclaimed throughout the United States. The fact that for many years the railroads have received, as net income, less than is now recognized as a fair interest upon their property value, is a challenge to our form of regulation. Notwithstanding increases in rates since 1917, the railroads are now and have been for some time, handling freight at the lowest rates in the world.

RAILWAY SERVICE: Railway service in the United States has reached a state of efficiency not equaled anywhere else in the world. We have become so accustomed to this that we are forgetful of the effort required to maintain and operate this service and the real unity of the transportation system which enables one to ship goods over any and all lines at will; opens a world-wide market to the producer, and permits travel to any accessible station. The comfort and luxury of our passenger service would have been inconceivable fifty years ago.

FAIR TREATMENTS TO RAILROADS: The railroads of the United States, while contributing freely to the prosperity of the Nation, have not been allowed an equitable share in that prosperity. They have been slandered by self-seeking and unscrupulous politicians. They have also been subjected to a form of restrictive regulation which has not been applied to business generally. Notwithstanding all the adverse conditions under which the railroads are placed, the Chicago and North Western Railway System continues to maintain a service, both passenger and freight, of the highest standard.

WATER PROFIT IN JULY WAS $3,127

Commissioners Will Let Contract To Remodel Old Pumping Station

The profit of the Appleton waterworks in July amounted to $3,127.30, according to the monthly financial report submitted to the water commission by the secretary at the bi-weekly meeting. Bills and payroll accounts in the sum of $1,619.25 were allowed by the commission, and several contracts were awarded.

Contractors who submitted proposals on the job of remodeling and repairing the old pumping station were George Ashman, Fred Lillie, H. R. Beeko, Fraser Manufacturing company, William Struck and Martin Boldt & Sons. The commission authorized Chairman J. J. Plank, Secretary A. C. Remley and Plant Commissioner William H. Tilton to tabulate the proposals and award a contract on the basis of the lowest bid.

C. A. Gustafson company of Chicago was awarded the contract of supplying the water department with three tank cars of fuel oil containing 10,000 gallons each at the price of 5.24 cents a gallon. Contracts for purchase of two generators were awarded to the Lanzstad-Meyer company for the price of $1,550. The commission also instructed the secretary to purchase 30 tons of cast iron pipe of 6 and 8 inch type for this year's work on Lawe and Cherry-st bridges.

JOIN TO FIGHT HIGH BRAN PRICE

Because of the unreasonable price of bran and middlings, said to be due to speculators hoarding the entire output of the mills for the next four months, dealers and farmers of Fox river valley are getting together for the purpose of discontinuing further purchases until prices are normal. An effort is to be made to secure the co-operation of all farm organizations. Bran now is retailing at $33 a ton and middlings at $34 a ton. The advance in price of each within the last few days has been between $6 and $7 a ton. Promoters of the movement claim that supply and demand should rule the prices.

WORKING OVERTIME
Saturday morning while working in the garden, I chanced to glance up into the cherry tree. There I saw a few cherry blossoms bravely peeping out among the branches.

NATURE'S OWN
An Appleton woman came to Little Chute Tuesday evening to attend a dance. She was all dolled up for the big event, but as she was getting out of the car, she looked down and imagined her embarrassment when she found she had forgotten to put on her stockings. Luckily she had friends in Little Chute who loaned her the necessary hosiery.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two more residents will be erected in Appleton as a result of building permits issued for that purpose from the office of the city engineer and building inspector Friday. A total of 170 house building permits this far has been issued. Value of work authorized Friday amounted to $6,700. The total for the season now is $1,400,838.

Following are Friday's permits: Joseph Dunsirn, $61 Mason-st. residence. James Moore, 562 North Division-st. garage. A. Risse, 428 North-st. garage. Wenzel Spacek, 1138 Ryan-st. residence.

School Signs Up
New warning signs have been placed near some of the schools in the city by the street department. All others have been repainted and made to look like new. Signs warning motorists to slow down are now erected at practically all of the public and parochial schools of the city.

along and saw what was attracting the attention. It was a garage on a truck and it was being moved at the rate of 15 miles an hour. I can't figure out yet how they got the garage on the truck or the truck under the garage.

THE UNINVITED GUEST
Friday our two little neighbor boys built a house in their front yard by placing boxes in a circle. One of the little boys' mother provided a lunch for them and they placed it in a box in the middle of the "house." Soon a puppy came along and his keen nose detected the food. At first he could not get past the ring of boxes because they were too high for him to jump, until finally he found the "front door," which was wide open. That he had not been invited did not bother him in the least for he carried the boys' lunch piece by piece into the next yard and there enjoyed his picnic. But of course the boys got another repast when they found their first one missing.

'OH, HAROLD' SEEN ON MOST PIANOS

"Oh, Harold" was the piece of popular sheet music which was in greatest demand last week at the four music stores handling it. Each place reported last Friday that it had been one of the biggest sellers. A close second was "Dreamy Melody," a piece which has been popular for a long time. Other numbers which were unusually good sellers were "Annabelle" and "Stella."

The numbers in greatest demand at the four stores were the following: Carroll's Music Shop: Oh, Harold, Annabelle, My Sweetie Went Away, Swinging Down the Lane, Dreamy Melody. Meyer-Seeger Music Co.: Dreamy Melody, Oh, Harold, Brokenhearted Melody, Marcheta, In a Covered Wagon. Irving Zuelke: Oh, Harold, Stella, Cut Yourself a piece of Cake, Love Tales, China Doll. Miss S. E. Anderson: Stella, Bad News Blues, Oh, Harold, Dreamy Melody, "Tain't Nothin' Blues."

Camp Articles Found
One lone blanket roll from the Onaway camping trip is left at the Playhouse of Appleton Women's club. A few stray articles of clothing which slipped from the rolls as they were being brought from camp are also at the Playhouse. Any of the girls who missed wearing apparel are urged to come to the club and look over the array.

State Commissioner Atwood Testifies Number of Examiners Inadequate

By Associated Press
Madison—Testimony that the income tax discrepancy of Wisconsin corporations each year amount to between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000 was given by Carroll Atwood, state tax commissioner, in an adverse examination Saturday in the suit of William J. Juncos against the tax commission. Juncos is asking for an injunction to prevent the commission from divulging income tax information under provisions of the secrecy clause repeal. Mr. Atwood also testified that contrary to expectations, the number of people examining income records is negligible.

KELLER IS BACK FROM FRATERNAL CONGRESS

Gustave Keller has returned from French Lick Springs, Ind., where he attended the national fraternal congress of America. It was one of the most successful meetings of its kind ever held, said Mr. Keller. Ninety-two fraternal beneficiary societies were represented by 300 delegates who represented 5,125,271 members and $5,829,765,790 insurance in force.

One of the satisfactory conditions of the congress is that practically all of the organizations are now upon an adequate basis, having completed their readjustment of rates. The program was one of unusual interest. Among the most prominent speakers were Jeremiah Whipple Jenks of the University of New York, who spoke on "Foreign Relations," and William A. Davis, secretary of labor, whose subject was "Fraternalism, Immigration, Naturalization and Labor."

READERS LIKE BOK'S NEW NOVEL ABOUT TRADESMAN

"The Man From Maine" Teaches Object Lesson As To Value Of Character

"The Man From Maine" by Edward Bok was one of the best circulators last week at Appleton public library. Mr. Curtis, as narrated by Mr. Bok, belonged to the nineteenth century. He started with practically nothing and made his way by unceasing struggle and effort. He practiced a magnificent unflinching self-control, a firm, far-sighted thrift which was always ready to sacrifice immediate pleasure to future profit. Mr. Curtis who had the keenest business instinct played the game for the love of it, always alertly awake to a good bargain, yet too intelligent to be small or narrow. Above all he frankly admitted he owed his progress in the world to advertising, to telling the public aptly and insistently what he had to offer. As a result he received an immense material reward, had the excitement of success, the full intoxication of what Mr. Bok justly calls the romance of business. The lesson in the book is, "Be Thrifty, intelligent, healthy, self-controlled," or as Mr. Bok puts it, "have character."

The other nonfiction book was "The Life of Christ" by Papini. It has been one of the most popular books at the library since its arrival and continues in demand.

The three fiction books for the week were "Valiant Dust" by Gerould, "1492" by Johnston and "His Children's Children" by Train. "Valiant Dust" has been the least popular of the three stories but as the other two have been very popular it is not surprising anything against the book. "1492" is a book with the historical backing suggested by its name and is an exceedingly interesting example of what may be written from historical material.

'MY SWEETIE' NOW IS BEST SELLER

"Barney Google" Is Out Of The Most Popular Record Class Now

Although a great variety of record numbers was popular last week at the local music stores probably the best seller in all makes of records was "My Sweetie Went Away." The selection is comparatively new. Other numbers which were outstanding sellers were "Drifting Back to Dreamland," "I Never Miss the Sunshine" and "Waiting for the Evening Mail."

"Barney Google" finds its way among the most popular selections still but it is no longer an outstanding favorite for most persons want the newer pieces as they appear.

Both vocal and instrumental numbers took the lead last week among classical pieces with the emphasis slightly on the vocal selections.

The five best sellers at each of the local music stores were:

Victor: Anabelle, My Sweetie Went Away, I Never Miss the Sunshine, Drifting Back to Dreamland, Going Home (Verrenrath).

Columbia: Ducks Quack, That Red Head Gal, Louisville Lou, Dreamy Melody, Heaven at the End of the Road (Glockett).

Edison: We Two, My Sweetie Went Away, Oh, Harold, Funny Feet, Carnival Venice (Kryl).

Okeh: In a Tent, I Never Miss the Sunshine, My Sweetie Went Away, Long Lost Mamma, Waiting for the Evening Mail.

Brunswick: Blue Hoosier Blues, When You Walked Out, Someone Else Walked In, Stella, Down Among the Sleepy Hills of Tennessee, Ave Maria (Easton).

Vocalion: Beside a Babbling Brook, Long Lost Mamma, Barney Google, Blue Hoosier Blues, Perfect Day, (Columbia O'More).

Victor: My Sweetie Went Away, Waiting for the Evening Mail, Anabelle, Drifting Back to Dreamland, Serenade (Morini).

SOON PROVIDE ROOM FOR WOMAN JURY AT COURT

Bills amounting to $355.67 were allowed Saturday by the county grounds and building committee of the county board. The committee was to meet again Tuesday to hold a conference with Judge Edgar C. Werner and make arrangements for the remodeling of the circuit court rooms on the second floor of the courthouse. Separate jury rooms for women are to be provided. The county previously had no accommodations for women jurors in case it would be necessary to lock the jury up for the night. The committee also will consider providing for more elbow space in the basement of the county clerk's office.

FINISH FOUNDATION OF NEW RIVERSIDE PAPERMILL

Construction work on the new Riverside paper mill was entirely suspended on Labor Day. The only sign of activity was a pump operated by a gasoline engine that kept down the leakage of the cement. The foundation is about completed and work upon the walls will be commenced within the next week or two.

Work was suspended also on Lawrence bridge which is taking form. The abutment at each end is practically completed and about half the piers and body of the bridge are in place. The cement work of the structure is progressing northward, and about half the north side of the river is still open. Low water aids construction work materially.

Unceasing Toil With Aid Of Wife Brought Reward To Penniless Immigrant

Jacob Linsmeyer Braved Mother's Wrath To Come To America—Worked His Way From Farmhand To Owner Of 212 Acres Of Land

By W. F. WINSEY

As I recall the story of his life told me by the roadside, Jacob Linsmeyer of Seymour, was an ambitious German boy 15 years of age in the old country, who for a year was apprenticed to a miller, and worked long days with no pay. I see him rebelling after the death of his father against a system that promised nothing throughout life but scanty fare, threadbare clothing and old age beset with abjection and want.

I see him appealing to his mother to let him break his apprenticeship and escape to America with a neighbor boy—a land in which he had heard there were all equal and blessed with equality of opportunity. I see the mother storming at the appeal, absolutely refusing to give her consent to the enactment of such a tragedy and threatening to submit the case to the parish priest, I hear the good old priest reasoning, "There, there now, boy, that's all right. You stay with your mother; you are the head of the house and your mother has a right to her property. Nothing good ever comes of running away and roaming over a new country." I can see the boy appealing his case to the court of last resort, his guardian, who gave consent.

MADE SMALL LOAN

I see the boy borrowing what money he can on his promise to pay later, tying a string about his meager belongings, planning his voyage with Peter Little, who was to be his companion on the trip across the sea. The last leave-taking from relatives and boyhood friends, the embarkation in the crush of emigrants at Bremen, the 19 days sail across the Atlantic, the landing in the strange city of Baltimore, the trip by train to Milwaukee and the trip by boat from Milwaukee to Manitowoc.

Landing in Manitowoc the boy wandered around the streets and took courage to enter the saloon of Emil Sommer. The boy was disappointed at not being able to continue his journey with his companion to Kewaunee because he was "broke." Joseph Limberger came into the saloon, saw the strange boy, and engaged him to work on his farm at $4 a month. He did so well that at the end of the month he was engaged for a year at $109.

"I was a 'rich man' in 1899," said Mr. Linsmeyer. "When I landed in Manitowoc I had just 24 cents in my pocket."

"When my year was up, I went to Menominee, Mich., and there worked for Samuel Stephenson for 11 years. While in Menominee, I heard that Jacob Nicholl, an acquaintance I had made in Manitowoc, had settled on a good land in the town of Seymour. I made him a visit because I wished to meet him again and to own land located near someone I knew. Soon after meeting him, I bought the 45 acres on which we are standing. The land then was covered with heavy timber.

CLEARED LAND

"I had been married while I was at work in Menominee, and my wife and I moved onto our land soon after the purchase, built a log cabin and began felling the timber. I chopped down the trees and my wife chopped the limbs and together we piled the logs and brush. My wife and I did all the land clearing and farm work until our boys grew up and were able to help.

"In harvest time, I did the cradling and my wife did the raking and binding and was usually able to keep up to me. With her daily help in the woods and fields I was able to get along without hiring help. Before and since the boys grew up, we have bought and cleared 212 acres.

"When we settled in the town of Seymour, our nearest neighbor was John Platten who lived a mile away. Our next nearest and only other neighbor was Jake Nicholl who lived a mile and a half away through the woods.

"My wife and I usually cleared ten acres of land in a winter. All the tools we had at first were axes and others we could make. We rolled and piled the logs by hand for burning. After we got our first yoke of oxen, we cut some of the trees into four foot wood and I hauled it to the coal mine east of Seymour where I got $1.69 a cord for it. Often I chopped down suitable trees, my wife and I saved them into blocks and both of us split the blocks into stove bolts. These we sold in Seymour at $2.50 a cord.

"As there were no fences in the woods, our cows wandered away so far that often we could not hear the bells and we had difficulty in finding them.

RELATIVES CAME

"I was not in this country long before I wrote home to my relatives in the old country, telling them that this country was a better country for poor people than the old country and inviting them to come. Among those who came were four brothers and my mother. My mother and one brother have since died, two brothers are living in Menominee and one in Minneapolis.

"We have five children, J. H. Linsmeyer, and Mrs. Frank Duffek, Black Creek, and John, Mary and Tillie, living at home. J. H. Linsmeyer is on an adjoining farm.

"We have bought considerable land and at one time we were $3,000 in debt, but we never had any trouble in earning the money to pay our debts.

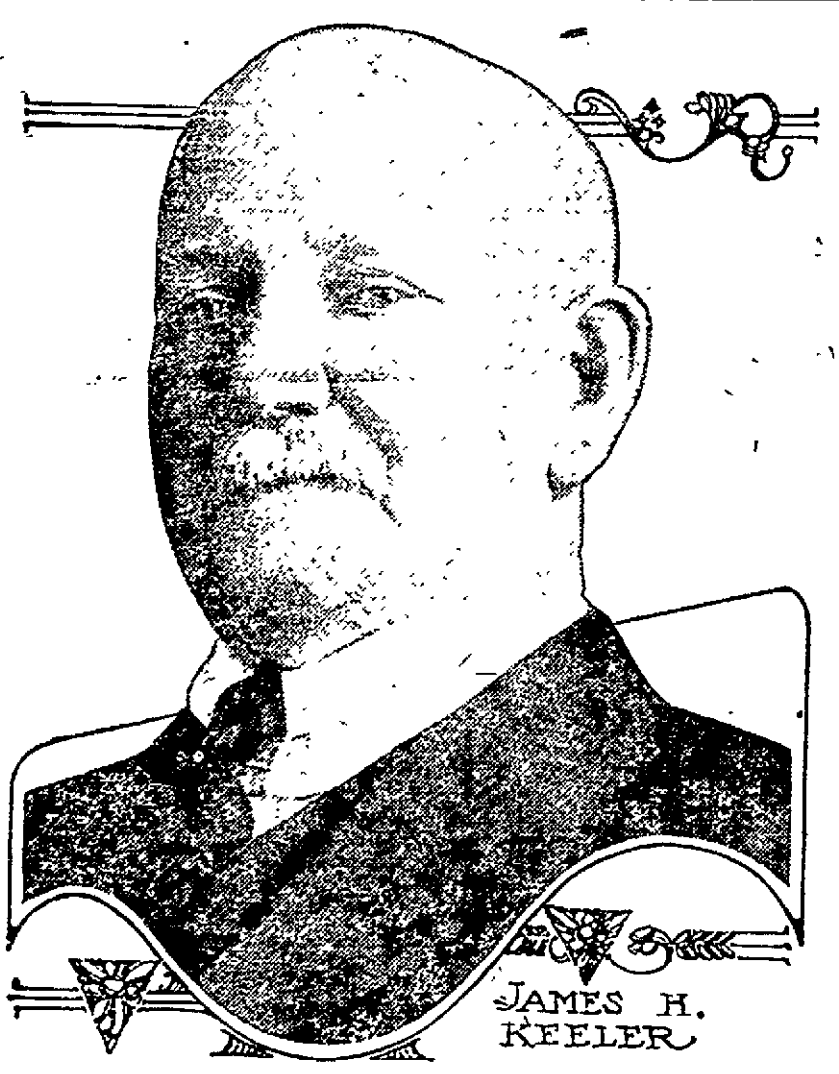

"With all the rough and tough that I have stood and I am through now. I never was sorry that I came to this country and never wanted to return to the old country to stay."

LEASE PLANS SOCIAL YEAR FOR CHURCH AT OCONTO

C. E. Lease, acting boys work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spent Saturday at Oconto where he presided at the meeting Saturday evening of the members of the First Methodist church of which he is pastor. The meeting had been called to outline a successful campaign for funds. The church members felt that $150 would be necessary for its program, but through the efforts of the committee more than $850 was raised before the close of the campaign a week ago. The church will have one social event for its people every week.

At the close of the campaign, Mr. Lease gave a sermon on "Christ and the Crisis" in which he accuses the churches of today of not having enough programs with which to meet the needs of their people. The sermon is to be published in pamphlet form to be used as an incentive to other churches to broaden their programs for Christian leadership.

AFTER 14 years of enforced idleness because of ill health, "Uncle Jim" Keeler, widely known Maryland citizen, gained forty pounds, and at the age of 80 years goes back on the job every day. Mr. Keeler gives Tanlac entire credit for his remarkable recovery.

"I am now eighty years old, but in 'up three or four times. Since taking Tanlac I eat and digest everything, and do a young man's work. All I can say is this. I thank God for Tanlac." — James H. Keeler.

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

MUST NOT DRIVE ON NEW MEDINA-RO

The newly concreted section of the Appleton-Medina road has not yet been opened officially for traffic and those who are now driving over it are doing so illegally. It is declared by A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Although pouring of concrete on this 4-mile stretch by Greunke Brothers Construction company was finished a few weeks ago, it still will be more than a week before the road will be opened to traffic. The builders are still at work on the shoulders. Travelers crowding past the barricades in order to drive over the road are undergoing a risk. Mr. Brusewitz said. The new construction is a federal aid project.

May Use Clubhouse

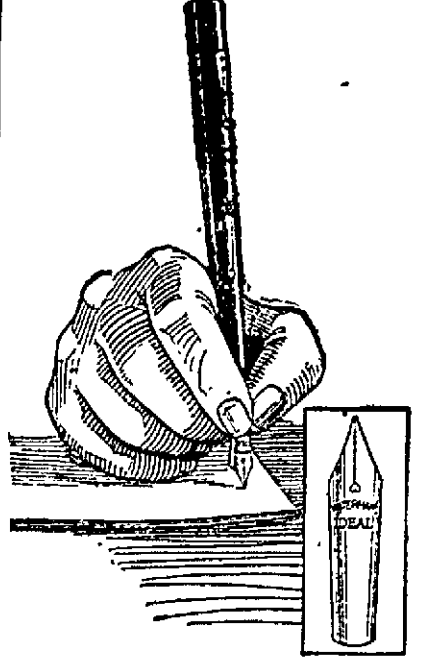

County school teachers who are attending the special conferences at the court house were invited Saturday morning to make use of the new facilities of Appleton Woman's club. Miss Margaret Chandler, head of the recreation department, told the teachers of the two buildings which will be used for club work here and asked them to come to the house and the Playhouse at any time when they found it convenient.

NEW TAX ROLLS ARRIVE FROM PRINTING OFFICE

The tax rolls for the various tax districts of Outagamie county have at last arrived. The books for Appleton's six wards were received a few days previous, but the remainder of the tax rolls for other cities, villages and towns were received by John E. Hant-schel, county clerk, on Saturday. They were printed by H. C. Miller company of Milwaukee. The work of Fred Bachman, city treasurer of Appleton, has been slightly delayed by the late shipment of the books.

EMPHASIZE BODY
TRAINING IN SCHOOL

A successful teachers' institute came to a close Saturday afternoon after a 2-day session in the circuit court chambers of the county courthouse. The afternoon session was devoted to a discussion of instruction standards in the various classes, and material was distributed among the teachers by Superintendent A. G. Meating, where, by both teachers and pupils may mark progress of the pupils in each subject by means of achievement record blanks. William H. Nolan also gave a demonstration Saturday in physical education by means of a phonograph. More time than ever before will be de-

AND OTHER GETS "GATE"

One of the participants of a brawl Saturday at Kaukauna was shown the doors of that city, while the other has been confined to the county workhouse to insure peace. Herbert Czalcinski, it is said, was battered by Jack Pomroy of Kaukauna to such an extent that he might have cause to be ashamed to show his features in that city. Both men were lodged in jail since Sunday. Pomroy is now serving 10 days in the workhouse and Czalcinski was ordered out of the city by Judge A. M. Spencer Tuesday morning.

HORTONVILLE YOUTHS
AUTO TO CALIFORNIA

Two Hortonville young men, Leland Dabareiner and L. Werner, left Saturday on an automobile trip to California. They were accompanied by Edgar H. Knoop and Lyle J. Schneider of Oshkosh.

The destination is Los Angeles, and the itinerary includes: St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn.; Elmarck, N. D.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Helena, Mont.; Yellowstone National park; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.; and points in California.

The youths expect to take about six weeks for the trip west, and will camp along the way. They will make the return trip next spring by the southern route.

TWO DELEGATES TO
M. E. CONFERENCE

Dr. J. A. Holmes and Herman Saecker left Tuesday to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church at Fond du Lac. Others who will attend the conference are Dr. Samuel Plantz, W. E. Smith and Dr. J. H. Fippett. The conference will continue throughout the week with a layman's meeting beginning on Thursday.

Official appointments for the coming year will be made at the end of the session. Many noted speakers have been secured for the lecture program, which is part of the conference schedule.

BRADFORD PORTRAIT IS DISPLAYED IN WINDOW

Another of Alfred Bradford's portrait pictures is being displayed in the window of the Ryan Art store. It is the portrait of Miss Elsie Mills of Baltimore and was done while the young Appleton artist was still in New York. Those who have seen the portrait have remarked about the unusually natural flesh tints which the artist has achieved. The color of the skin on the hand which holds the parasol is considered excellent.

Mr. Bradford is still in Paris and is much interested in his work there. He will go to Rome in the near future where he will begin his work as winner of the Prix de Rome.

Bunched hits and a flock of errors helped the Menasha tribe defeat the Paper makers, 11 to 2, before a crowd of 2,300 howling fans Sunday at Menasha. Rush and Lathrop both pitched good ball but the Appleton boys gave way under the strain early in the game, and were unable to overtake the Pails' lead thereafter.

Rush started things rolling in the second stanza when he poled the apple over the field barrier. Two hits and a stolen base helped Stoneman across the rubber for the second tally. The Papermakers threatened to score in the fourth, but Minch's brilliant stop of T. Lamers' sizzler spoiled Les Smith's chance of scoring on his angle. Ted was advanced to third by Wenzel's twobagger, but they both died on the sacks when Red Smith drove one into Rush's hands and the side was retired.

FOUR TALLIES FOR PAILS
The fifth stanza was the beginning of the end. Rush was the first man up, and knocked a high fly to center field, where Narty and Ted Lamers and Sylvester stood waiting for caca other to go after it, while Les Smith sprinted from rightfield and muffed it on the run. Wenzel retired Cissa on a foul, and Leopold filed into Les Smith's hands, which made it two down and one on. Zelenski and Braby each hit safely and scored Rush, and then Warden knocked the apple over the centerfield fence. A couple of errors by Weisgerber and another by Marty Lamers gave the Pails another run in the sixth, while Appleton had not yet broken the ice.

Lathrop had suffered badly under this punishment, and showed it in the seventh. Braby was hit by a pitched ball, Warden got a life. Reik poled the pill for one base and reached second while Len Smith fumbled the ball, permitting both Braby and Warden to cross the home plate. Minch followed with a twobagger, scoring Reik, and was helped home by Stoneman's single. Rush connected with another of Lathrop's offerings for two bases but both he and Stoneman were left on the sacks when Cissa and Leopold filed out.

ATTEMPTED COMEBACK
The Papermakers made a desperate attempt in the eighth to redeem themselves, and managed to cop two runs before they were retired. Les Smith's homerun over the rightfield garden wall drove in Lathrop ahead of him, and T. Lamers, Wenzel, and Red Smith each knocked out a single. Rush grabbed off a bunt by Len Smith, however, and retired the side before either of the three could score. Neither side tallied again during the rest of the contest, although Lathrop succeeded in swelling his batting average with a twobagger in the ninth.

Sylvester's tribe redeemed itself for Sunday's defeat at the hands of the Pails, by copying two games, 4 to 3, and 20 to 5, from Bresnahan's Twins on Monday.

MORNING CONTEST
The first contest was a comedy of errors. Marty Lamers pitched an excellent game, however, but seven men and holding two Twins but less for four innings. The Papermakers scored their first run in the initial inning on an error, a sacrifice, and a fielder's choice. The second stanza was uneventful, but in the third, the locals turned two errors and a hit into another run. Uecke, the Twins' centerfielder for the first hit for his outfit in the fifth, when he tapped a slow one to Red Smith and beat the throw to first. Marty Lamers held him there, however, and retired the side with two more strikeouts.

Red Smith's homer scored the third Appleton run in the fifth. In the sixth, the Twins tied the score when Boyle slammed the ball for four bases with Reinhardt and Arndt ahead of him, and held the score that way up to the final inning, when the Appleton tribe converted two singles an error, and a passed ball into the winning run.

COP SECOND GAME 20-5
In the afternoon game, two Marinette pitchers were knocked out of the box, and in spite of the fact that Appleton players made six errors they defeated the Twins, 20 to 5. Sax on pitched until the Papermakers had batted once around, getting six hits, three of them doubles. These, combined with a walk, and another two base hit off Schultz who relieved Sax on, were turned into seven runs. Schultz held the locals scoreless for the next inning, but weakened in the third, when the four hits he allowed resulted in two more runs for the Appleton tribe. Red Lamers gave Bourke a chance to reach first when he muffed his drive, but threw him out at home.

Three hits in the fifth were converted in the final stanza.

MAYEFSKIS BEAT APPLETON RIVALS

Regulars Defeat Second Local Amateur Team Third Straight Sunday

Mayefsky's clan won its third straight game from the Appleton Rivals, 6 to 4, Monday morning at Interlake park. Niles outpitched Brautigam who allowed fifteen hits to Niles even. Neither pitcher walked a man throughout the contest, and Niles struck out four men, while Brautigam walked seven by the strikeout route. Up to the sixth inning the Rivals had the advantage over the Mayefskys, 3 to 1, but a number of errors and several bunched hits enabled the Regulars to overtake their opponents and leave them behind in the last three stanzas.

Batteries—Mayefsky—Niles and Ahlman, Rivals—Brautigam and Walton.

ERRORS GIVE RED SOX 3-2 VICTORY OVER BEEBE TRIBE

Rejuvenated Fond du Lac Club Scores Winning Run In Ninth Stanza

Oshkosh—Errors in the sixth inning and again in the ninth enabled the rejuvenated Fond du Lac tribe to touch Fred Beebe's Indians for a 3 to 2 victory in the cellar championship series of the Wisconsin State league here Sunday afternoon. After establishing a one run lead in the fourth and holding Louie Faris' new outfit scoreless for five innings, Oshkosh threw the game away with some wild pegging and an error in the sixth, permitting the Red Sox to cross the plate twice before they came down to earth. Two errors in the ninth were responsible for Fond du Lac's winning run. Score:

American Tennis Team Retains Davis Trophy

Johnston And Tilden Crush Hawkes And Anderson, Australian Champs, In Final Matches Monday

Forest Hills, N. Y.—The Davis cup, historic emblem of international supremacy, is safe in Uncle Sam's custody for another year. Putting to route the opposition that had proved so startlingly formidable in the first two days of play, America swept to victory Monday afternoon over the Australians in the final two singles contests and captured the series by a margin of four matches to one.

Displaying a marked reversal of the form he showed in going down to defeat before James O. Anderson last Friday, William M. Johnston, clinched the trophy for the United States when he smothered John B. Hawkes in the opening match, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. William T. Tilden made it a clean sweep for the day when he conquered Anderson, the Australian captain, 6-2, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5, in a match that failed to come up to the expectations held out for this struggle between the "aces" of the opposing forces.

13,000 SEE MATCHES
The crushing character of America's closing victories came as a distinct anti-climax to the gruelling spectacular play in the first two days of the challenge round. The gallery of 13,000 that taxed the capacity of the big West Side club's stadium had come expecting a last desperate stand on the part of the Australians, who had proved so unexpectedly powerful in dividing the first two singles in counters and forcing the doubles match on Saturday to five terrific, record breaking sets before bowing to defeat.

But they were doomed to disappointment. At no stage of Monday's play was there the least uncertainty of the outcome, for the mastery of both Johnston and Tilden was complete at practically every step of both matches. The Antipodeans made their

PIRATES COP 8 TO 2 FROM REDS WHILE GIANTS BREAK EVEN

Pittsburg Nationals Creep Up To Menacing Place One Behind Cincinnati

Chicago.—The New York Nationals broke even Monday. The Cincinnati Reds lost and the Pittsburgh Pirates crept up to a position where they may be considered as serious National league contenders. The Reds now are three and a half games behind the Giants, and the Pirates are only one game behind the Reds. Chicago in fourth place, is out of sight.

The Giants broke even with the Boston Braves in a double header, winning the first, 2 to 0, and losing the second, 5 to 1. The first game was a ten-inning struggle in which the New Yorkers won after Bentley hit a roller along the line and beat McInnis to their first bag with two out, while Stengel trotted home.

The Philadelphia Nationals acquired one side of a doubleheader in Brooklyn, 4 to 2, while the Robins took the other, 5 to 4. In the first contest, Ring held the Brooklyn batsmen to six hits, as the Phillies took ten off Grimes.

In the American league the New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians, and the Detroit Tigers each won twice. The Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 2 and 5 to 2. The first game was Uhl's twenty-fourth victory of the season. In the second game, Speaker hit a homer with two on base.

The Yanks had a hard time taking their first game from the Philadelphia Athletics, finally winning after 13 innings of desperate play by the score of 2 to 1. Sharkey pitched, holding the Philadelphia batsmen to ten hits which were scattered throughout the entire battle. The second game was won with a three run rally in the eighth inning.

The Tigers won from the Chicago White Sox in Detroit by an overwhelming score in the first game, 14 to 4, but the second was a nip and tuck battle with the winning run coming in the last inning, ending, 6 to 5. In the first game eight of the Detroit runs came in the eighth inning.

The Pittsburgh Nationals won from the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburg, 8 to 2. Morrison held the Red swatters to six hits while the Pirates knocked out ten in four innings, and five off McQuade in the next four. The afternoon game was called because of rain.

In Chicago the St. Louis Nationals won the first game, 1 to 0, and forced the Cubs to 11 innings to win the second, 5 to 4. Stuart pitched for the Cardinals in the first game and Keen for the Cubs, except for the last inning when Fussell took the mound for Chicago.

The Boston Americans and Washington split in Boston, the home team taking the first game, 5 to 4, and the visitors the second, 7 to 3. Marberry made his first big league appearance in the second game when he pitched for the Senators. He was relieved in the sixth by Russell.

Babe Ruth of the New York Americans had a tough time with the stick in the double-header against Philadelphia. He managed to get only one hit but it proved worth while as it resulted in breaking up a pitching duel and giving New York a close victory. Ruth opened the inning with a double, went to third on a hit, and scored the winning marker on a field out.

The Detroit Americans pulled themselves out of a batting slump and smashed out twenty hits in the first game against Chicago, and then came back and scored out another victory in the afternoon. Rufus Clarke, a right-hand recruit from Augusta, Ga., made his debut with Detroit and although he pitched to only four batters he was credited with victory on the morning game.

Jimmy Ring let Brooklyn down with six hits in the first game of the doubleheaders and Philadelphia batted Dutch Reuther for ten hits and a victory, but in the second game Burleigh Grimes helped to win his own game in the eighth inning, when he drove home the deciding run with a single. High was safe on an error and went to second on a sacrifice and home on Grimes' blow.

Pittsburg dampened Cincinnati's pennant hopes by taking the morning game, and rain prevented the Reds from a chance of evening up the count in the afternoon, the game being postponed.

Rogers Hornsby, by cracking out his fifteenth homer of the season, enabled St. Louis to shut out Chicago in the first game of a double-header which was a pitching duel between Stuart and Keen. The second game went ten innings before Chicago evened the series by scoring out a run, when O'Farrell cracked a single with the bases filled and sent home a victory.

Puzzling Plays

By Billy Evans

THE PLAY
There are runners on first and second base and no one out. The batsman hits a high fly ball to the infield, which the plate umpire rules an infield fly. Such a ruling on the part of the umpire is supposed to automatically retire the batsman.

A high wind is blowing which makes the judging of a fly a very difficult matter. The third baseman calls for the play and the other infielders permit him to try for the catch.

GOTTSSACKER SHUTS OUT KAUKAUNA, 2-0 IN LABOR DAY GAME

Sheboygan Scores Two Runs In 3rd When Wangemann Doubles With Sacks Full

Sheboygan.—Ham Gottsacker, pitching for the Chairmakers, shut out the Kaukauna club, 2 to 0, in the game played here Monday afternoon. Gottsacker hurled a good game and was given clever support. He walked only one man and appeared to be in control of the situation at all times. With the bases loaded in the third inning, Wangemann knocked out a double, bringing in the only two scores of the day.

WEISMULLER WINS 440 YARD SWIMMING TITLE

Rye, N. Y.—Johnny Weismuller, Chicago swimming wonder, on Sunday won the National A. A. U. 440 yard free style championship, proving conclusively that he has entirely recovered from his breakdown of last July.

The time was comparatively slow for the distance, 5:37.25, but this was accounted for by the choppy seas which ran almost at right angles to the course.

Johnny beat his club mate, Harold Krueger, former Hawaiian champion, who was second, with no difficulty whatsoever.

Miss Doris O'Mara won the women's junior national 160 yard back stroke, leading the nearest of six swimmers by twelve yards and finishing in 2:29.15.

Miss Ethel McGrady earned second place and Miss Elizabeth Stoddard came third.

New York—Cherry Pie, of the Green Three stables carrying 113 pounds, ran the fastest mile ever run by a horse in winning the Jerome handicap in 1:35.25 minutes.

The high wind causes the ball to fall to the ground untouched. It struck several yards in front of the third baseman and then crossed the foul line about midway between third and about 50 feet in foul territory.

The team in the field claimed that since the umpire ruled the ball an infield fly, the batsman was automatically out, even though the ball finally settled in foul territory.

The team at bat made the contention that the ball was foul and that it was impossible to have an infield fly on a foul ball.

What about it?
THE INTERPRETATION
Such a happening has several times come up in the major leagues.

The team at bat was correct in its contention. It is impossible to have an infield fly on a foul ball.

Major league umpires on such a play where there is a chance that the ball may go foul, often call "infield fly if the ball stays fair."

The umpire, even though he called infield fly, should regard the batsman's effort merely as a foul ball, send the runners back to first and second and make the batter hit over.

RED SOX DROP 9-1 CONTEST TO RUSH CLUB AT FOND DU LAC

Fond du Lac.—Menasha copped what started out to be a close game on Monday. Spier, making his debut, pitched wonderful ball until the sixth, when an error by Zinke allowed four runs to count. Again in the eighth with two down four more runs came across through an error. The locals played a snappy game out-side of these two innings.

Kinks o' the Links

by "PRO"

Smith reaches the green in three. Jones also takes the same number. Jones in playing his next stroke comes into contact with Smith's ball and knocks it into the hole. When Jones accidentally knocked Smith's ball into the hole is Smith regarded as having holed out? If so, what is Smith's score for the hole?

If a player's ball knocks an opponent's ball into the hole the opponent shall be considered to have holed out at his last stroke. Since Smith had reached the green in three, that is his score for the hole, despite the fact that he would have used at least one more stroke had not Jones accidentally knocked his ball into the cup.

If, on the putting green, a player plays out of turn and the mistake is immediately discovered, what is the proper procedure?
On the putting green if a player plays, when his opponent should have played, the stroke may be at once recalled by the opponent and the ball replaced. There is no penalty.

Can a ball be replaced on the fairway when for some reason it has been removed from its original lie? A contends that the ball can only be replaced on the green and that it must always be dropped on the fairway as near as possible to its original position. Is that correct?

A ball must always be dropped on the fairway. On the green it is permissible to replace it. A is correct in his contention.

PIRATES COP 8 TO 2 FROM REDS WHILE GIANTS BREAK EVEN

Pittsburg Nationals Creep Up To Menacing Place One Behind Cincinnati

Chicago.—The New York Nationals broke even Monday. The Cincinnati Reds lost and the Pittsburgh Pirates crept up to a position where they may be considered as serious National league contenders. The Reds now are three and a half games behind the Giants, and the Pirates are only one game behind the Reds. Chicago in fourth place, is out of sight.

The Giants broke even with the Boston Braves in a double header, winning the first, 2 to 0, and losing the second, 5 to 1. The first game was a ten-inning struggle in which the New Yorkers won after Bentley hit a roller along the line and beat McInnis to their first bag with two out, while Stengel trotted home.

The Philadelphia Nationals acquired one side of a doubleheader in Brooklyn, 4 to 2, while the Robins took the other, 5 to 4. In the first contest, Ring held the Brooklyn batsmen to six hits, as the Phillies took ten off Grimes.

In the American league the New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians, and the Detroit Tigers each won twice. The Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 2 and 5 to 2. The first game was Uhl's twenty-fourth victory of the season. In the second game, Speaker hit a homer with two on base.

The Yanks had a hard time taking their first game from the Philadelphia Athletics, finally winning after 13 innings of desperate play by the score of 2 to 1. Sharkey pitched, holding the Philadelphia batsmen to ten hits which were scattered throughout the entire battle. The second game was won with a three run rally in the eighth inning.

The Tigers won from the Chicago White Sox in Detroit by an overwhelming score in the first game, 14 to 4, but the second was a nip and tuck battle with the winning run coming in the last inning, ending, 6 to 5. In the first game eight of the Detroit runs came in the eighth inning.

The Pittsburgh Nationals won from the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburg, 8 to 2. Morrison held the Red swatters to six hits while the Pirates knocked out ten in four innings, and five off McQuade in the next four. The afternoon game was called because of rain.

In Chicago the St. Louis Nationals won the first game, 1 to 0, and forced the Cubs to 11 innings to win the second, 5 to 4. Stuart pitched for the Cardinals in the first game and Keen for the Cubs, except for the last inning when Fussell took the mound for Chicago.

The Boston Americans and Washington split in Boston, the home team taking the first game, 5 to 4, and the visitors the second, 7 to 3. Marberry made his first big league appearance in the second game when he pitched for the Senators. He was relieved in the sixth by Russell.

Babe Ruth of the New York Americans had a tough time with the stick in the double-header against Philadelphia. He managed to get only one hit but it proved worth while as it resulted in breaking up a pitching duel and giving New York a close victory. Ruth opened the inning with a double, went to third on a hit, and scored the winning marker on a field out.

The Detroit Americans pulled themselves out of a batting slump and smashed out twenty hits in the first game against Chicago, and then came back and scored out another victory in the afternoon. Rufus Clarke, a right-hand recruit from Augusta, Ga., made his debut with Detroit and although he pitched to only four batters he was credited with victory on the morning game.

Jimmy Ring let Brooklyn down with six hits in the first game of the doubleheaders and Philadelphia batted Dutch Reuther for ten hits and a victory, but in the second game Burleigh Grimes helped to win his own game in the eighth inning, when he drove home the deciding run with a single. High was safe on an error and went to second on a sacrifice and home on Grimes' blow.

Pittsburg dampened Cincinnati's pennant hopes by taking the morning game, and rain prevented the Reds from a chance of evening up the count in the afternoon, the game being postponed.

Rogers Hornsby, by cracking out his fifteenth homer of the season, enabled St. Louis to shut out Chicago in the first game of a double-header which was a pitching duel between Stuart and Keen. The second game went ten innings before Chicago evened the series by scoring out a run, when O'Farrell cracked a single with the bases filled and sent home a victory.

THE YELLOW SEVEN. THE PASSING OF ZARA-KHAN

BY EDMUND SNELL.
ILLUSTRATED BY
R.W. SATTENFIELD

Pennington produced a rubber pouch and began rolling a cigarette. "I don't know what to think. All I can say is that, by every rule of the game, the arch-bandit ought to be dead."

"I rather gather," said Varney slowly, "that Chai-Hung is a little out of the ordinary."

Pennington clasped both hands over his knee and looked hard at the wall.

"He is," he admitted. "There's something horribly uncanny about the merchant, and I only hope the Commissioner realizes it as much as I do."

"How long a time would you consider sufficient to presume him dead?"

Pennington grinned. "Not long," he announced more cheerfully. "You see, Chai-Hung—to give the devil his due—has a decided sense of humor; not the refined, harmless article that you or I lay claim to, I admit, but still a sense of humor. I flatter myself that I know enough of the gentleman to be certain that he won't be able to resist for long the desire to let me know that he's eluded me."

Varney lifted the sphinx from the table and thoughtfully sprayed a large spider that was in the act of crossing the floor.

"By the bye," he said, "you didn't by any chance tell anybody you were coming here?"

"Good heavens, yes! I told Monica and the others my probable plans, for one thing; and, for another, I instructed my men to follow me on here if they wanted anything or gleaned anything of importance they thought I ought to know."

"That accounts for it?"

"Accounts for what?"

The trader dived a hand into his tunic and produced Hewitt's letter, folded round the piece of card.

"Here's your evidence right enough," he told him. "It dated in the darkness barely half-an-hour ago."

Chinese Pennington spread the document out on the table and surveyed the Yellow Seven as a man might survey a long-lost brother.

"Great snakes!" he murmured presently, looking up into the other's eyes. "I fancy it was meant for me, all right."

Varney appeared relieved. "There happened to be a message with that bit of cardboard. It was given to my servant, verbally, to the effect that if I admitted you or helped you in any way—my number was up."

Pennington's jaw dropped. "Have you any idea where your boy put my things?"

Varney took his guest by both shoulders and forced him back into the chair.

"Whatever damage there's likely to be is done already, and if you fancy I'm going to allow a pack of dirty thieves to dictate to me what guests I entertain—you're very much mistaken. I merely told you as a matter of interest. Chai-Hung, it appears, is at large."

"Very much so. My dear old Varney, what an unholo mess-up. Do you realize that every blessed Chinaman on the island belongs to that gang of cut-throats?"

"Either that or passively. That's exactly where Chai-Hung's strength lies. However loyal an Oriental may be to his white master, he dares not refuse to comply with any request the hand may make. He wouldn't live a week if he did."

As the trader reached over to take his glass, Pennington caught sight of the tattooed tiger.

"I know one man, at least, who'd mourn your loss if Chai-Hung carried out his threat," he said quietly. "And that is!"

"Zara-Khan. He'd lament the loss of both a generous client and a walking picture-gallery of his art."

At that moment Chai-Hung appeared at the doorway to announce that the baths were ready.

The rusted hands of the veranda clock pointed to a little after one when Varney stretched his tattooed arms and yawned.

"Time for bed, old son."

Pennington, who was leaning on the rail, glanced back over his shoulder.

"Tired?"

The other nodded. "Taken all round, it's been a rather trying day. You won't be in too much of a hurry to get away in the morning?"

"Can't say. It depends on circumstances—and Mr. Chai-Hung. You won't mind if I hang about here for a spell. I know where to find my room."

Varney smiled. "Do just as you like, of course, I'm not going to suggest that you're feeling uneasy about recent events; but in any case, Chai-Hung would raise Cain long before any outsider could reach the house." He bent down and patted the creature's shaggy head.

Pennington held out his hand. "Good night, Varney. It's done me a world of good seeing you so fit and flourishing. I never worry; it wastes so much time! But I try to imagine I can think better when half the world's asleep."

He stopped there—rolling and smoking interminable cigarettes, and each time he struck a fresh match the sound that was curled in a cane chair jerked up its head. Presently Pennington extinguished the lamp. As he came back to his original position a sudden sound attracted his attention. Then, moon, sailing gaily toward a cloud-bank, threw sufficient light to enable him to see that Varney's door had not stirred. The sound came again, this time from the patch of blackness that indicated the opening to the passage. Pennington loosened the button of his hip-pocket and walked deliberately toward the patch. His keen ear accustomed to the slightest noise, all his senses alert, he gathered that someone was retreating softly as he advanced. He stepped a couple of paces backward and looked at the door. The animal blinked friendly up at him, squirmed into a more comfortable position—and resumed its slumbers.

Pennington winked ominously at the night. He the cigar had just made, and strode whistling to his room. He closed the door carelessly after him and turned the key. Presently he was moving about the room, humming softly to himself, with a hurricane-lamp burning merrily on a table by the bed. To a chance listener, it would have appeared that "he who sees in the dark" had at last succumbed to fatigue and was in the act of undressing; but in reality Pennington was indulging in the amusing pastime of picking perfectly useless things up in one part of the room and putting them down in another. He removed his boots and, knocking out the light, stretched himself at full length in his clothes behind the mosquito-curtains.

Varney's spare room contained no window, obtaining its ventilation from the space between where the partition walls finished and the rafters began, and Pennington, tying the curtains at the head end of the bed in a knot behind him, focused his eyes upon a narrow batten that served to finish-off the rough edges of timbering of the wall immediately at his side. This was the wall dividing the room from the passage. There were two outer partitions that rose higher than the rest, and the fourth was the one that backed on the room in which the trader himself was sleeping.

He had been in that position for roughly half-an-hour when he knew rather than heard that something was moving stealthily about the building. Presently the movement ceased altogether, and the man on the bed caught the sound of measured breathing that seemed to come from somewhere close at his side. Something passed softly along the wood-work, strained upon it, scratched its surface faintly—and the breathing rounded more rapidly in the region of the roof.

Next things are a question of habit. Happenings such as these which might have held others helpless, paralyzed with fear—acted upon Chinese Pennington like a tonic. Accordingly, while a black shadow—the slightest degree blacker than the wall itself—slid slowly downward, Pennington did not trouble to move a muscle until its lower extremity came well within reach. And then—one arm shot out with surprising suddenness, his fingers fastened upon a brown anklet—and the owner of the limb collapsed in a heap on the floor.

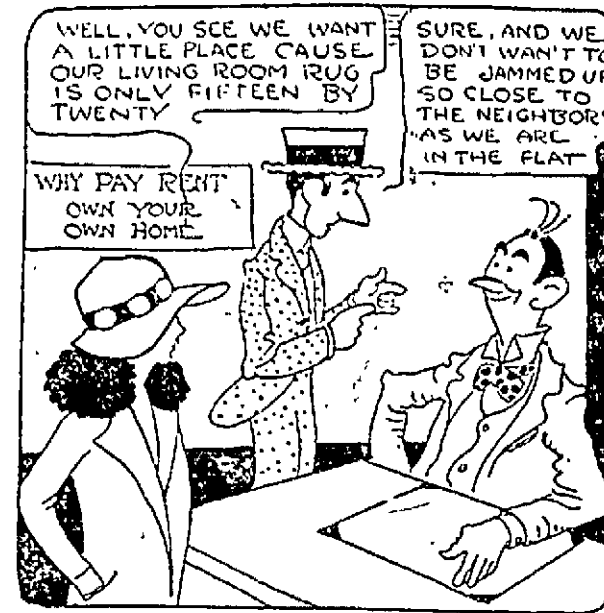

"Choi-Hung," said Pennington softly. "I have been waiting for you for many hours."

He had slipped from the bed and was groping for the electric torch he habitually carried. The form over which he knelt moved convulsively and flattened out, nearly causing him to pitch forward on his face. Pennington found the torch. The bulb displayed a faint glimmer which dropped immediately into a dull red glare. He swore softly under his breath and shifting his knees until they rested upon either arm of the Oriental, struck a match.

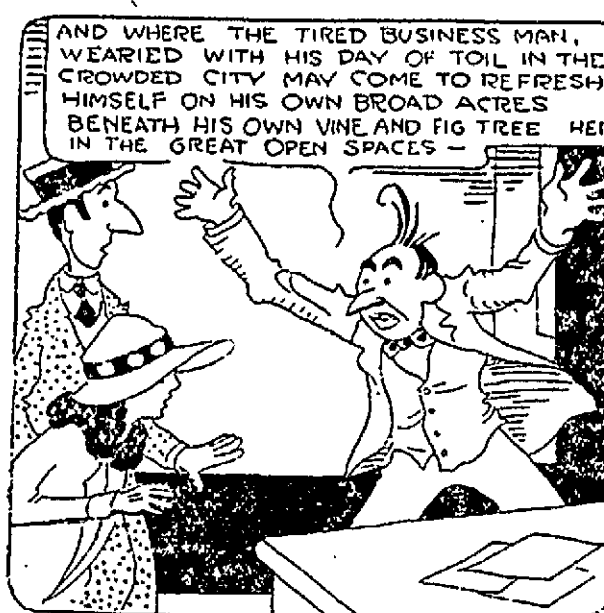

A second later he was upon his feet tugging up the chimney of the hurricane lamp. The flame flickered and shot up and he snapped the glass back into place.

lowed by fire wiped out Kawaguchi, Dowaiger Princess Yoshika was crushed to death at Odawara. The Dowaiger Princess Yamashina met the same fate at Kamakura.

In Tokio, Ichigaya prison was threatened by fire, and about 1,500 prisoners were freed. They included Tochihiro Saki, the Communist leader, and other Communism leader.

The fourteenth division at Utsunomiya and thirteenth division at Takata were marching toward Tokio Tuesday.

NO HOUSE STANDING

Reports from witnesses at Hakone say the earthquake left no houses standing at Miyazushima, the fashionable mountain resort 45 miles south of Tokio. The famous Fujita hotel was destroyed.

Following the earthquake horrors, many refugees died from extreme heat and exposure, according to witnesses. A temperature of 150 degrees Fahrenheit was registered in many places as a result of the great conflagrations.

The sufferings of many thousands of refugees in the Shizuoka district southwest of Tokio are aggravated by the torrential rains which have fallen since Sunday night.

HOT SPRING EXPLODES

A great explosion has occurred at Owakidani in Hakone, one of the hot springs of Japan, located about fifty miles from Tokio.

ENTRIES CLOSE FRIDAY FOR CITY NET TOURNAMENT

Entries in the city tennis championship tournament of the Y. M. C. A. will close Friday, Sept. 7, according to announcement of A. P. Jensen, physical director.

Sixteen players have enrolled to date, a larger number than a year ago, but Mr. Jensen hopes to see the number increased before Friday. Games are to start next Monday.

BIRTHS

A son was born Aug. 29 to Mr. and Mrs. John Grall of Ellington.

A son was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reinhold, 970 Spring-st.

DEATHS

U. S. GOVERNMENT SENDS MEDICINE AND FOOD TO JAPS

Destroyers And Cruisers Leave U. S. And Islands To Bring Aid To Victims non-perishable foods to be rushed to the earthquake sufferers.

The war department at the same time ordered the army transports Meles and Merritt to proceed from Manila with food and medical supplies and bedding from the army stores there. A sufficient enlisted force to take care of distribution was ordered to accompany the supplies.

It is a six or seven days' voyage to Yokohama after the ships are loaded, which probably will require a day.

Meanwhile seven destroyers of the Asiatic fleet are nearing Japan with medical supplies and food, one being due to arrive at Nagasaki Tuesday and the other six at Yokohama Wednesday.

AID FOR AMERICANS—The funds being contributed through Red Cross chapters and the national headquarters here will be added to an initial fund of $100,000 already contributed by the American society to be turned over to the Japanese Red Cross through the state department. In addition the American organization has appropriated $10,000 from its reserve fund for the assistance of Americans in the stricken area.

The president's appeal for contributions was issued immediately after Ambassador Hanihara of Japan had called at the White House and learned from Mr. Coolidge the desire of the Washington government to render all possible service. The Ambassador, in a later statement, expressed his "deep appreciation of the great tide of sympathy that has arisen throughout America" at the catastrophe that visited this country.

U. S. CONSUL SLAIN—The report from Shanghai that the American consul general at Yokohama had been killed in the earthquake disaster was thought by state department officials to refer to Max D. Kirsasoff of Waterbury, Conn., the consul there who has been acting as consul general since the death last year of Consul General George H. Seidmore of Wisconsin.

All members of the American embassy staff at Tokio are safe. Ambassador Woods advised the state department Tuesday in the first message received from him since the earthquake, that none of the embassy staff was injured, although all embassy buildings were totally destroyed.

The ambassador said the food situation was very acute and asked that rations be sent at once from the Philippine Islands. The message was sent from the Iwak wireless station. It follows:

"All embassy buildings totally destroyed but no one in embassy injured. Food situation very acute. Send rations at once from Philippines."

Coincidentally the state department received a despatch from American Consul Davis at Shanghai saying Tokio, Yokohama, and Yokosuka, had been "completely wiped out." Casualties among foreigners, he said had been "very numerous."

SCHOOLS GET UNDERWAY WITH REGISTRATION TODAY

"Back to the grind" is the way the children feel about starting school on Tuesday, but it comes around just as inevitably as Christmas. City schools and the parochial schools opened Tuesday morning and classes will start in earnest on Wednesday.

Registration of the upper classes at high school took place Tuesday morning. The freshmen were registered in the afternoon.

Preliminary meetings of the groups of Appleton Women's club recreation department will take place this week.

Miss Martha Chandler is sending out word to the girls who were in her dramatic club that they will meet to talk over plans, but the day is not yet decided upon. Sports council, which governs the activities of the department, will be called to a meeting, probably on Thursday evening. The date for that meeting cannot be made definite until members of the council have been consulted.
